ONE TO WRITE BOOK

Trips to the Continent seem to be getting quite the thing for a faculty member during vacation. This year, five, or possibly six, members of the teaching staff of the College will cross the ocean.

President and Mrs. Bell will sail for Cherbourg a few days after Commencement. From that port, they will proceed to Paris for a short stay. From there they will go to the Italian lakes in the northern part of Italy. where they will spend the larger part of their vacation. Switzerland and Germany are also included in their itinerary. Dr. Upton, Dean of the College, and Mrs. Shero, tutor in Latin, will accompany them during will spend July in Wisconsin. and most of August at his home in Greensburgh, Pa.

he will spend the summer. His decision will probably rest on his acceptance of his position for the coming semester.

"Down in Connecticut" as we are laconically informed, is the location for a restful summer for Dr. Edwards while he is writing a new book to be called "The Mechanics of Revolution."

Father Garnier asserts that he is "taking to the woods" and "the great open spaces" where the catamount mounts and so forth.

ST. STEPHEN'S GRADUATES LARGEST CLASS IN ITS HISTORY AT 65TH COMMENCEMENT

A FAREWELL WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

To our distinguished guests of Commencement Day I express the happiness of the college in having had them with us.

To the donors who have so generously given us of their wealth, I extend our deepfelt gratitude.

To the Alumni who have been back I say that their Mother has been happy to see them again upon the campus and rejoices in the worth of her sons of former days.

To the members of the graduating class I bid God-speed. I have an affection for them all greater than they can know until the years have gone by sufficiently for them to see their life here in perspective. For all that they have done to make the college life worth while, I thank them.

To the students who are going forth to vacation I offer my best wishes for happy and prosperous months.

God be with us 'til we meet again.

The first spring football at St. Stephen's ended with the 30th practice. The average attendance was a little better than 21, and 20 men attended two-thirds or more of the practices. The total attendance of all men aggregated 638 hours. Coach Bray's judgment of the whole thing was that it had all been well worthwhile, that the men had shown excellent spirit and a keen disposition to learn, and that another year's spring now that the system is established and recognized.
