TRUSTEES RULE TO PROHIBIT PROFESSIONALISM

Committee on Eligibility for Athletics Formed

As a result of the action of the Board of Trustees at their spring meeting, athletics at St. Stephen's are protected from any possibility of professionalism. The board ruled that no student will be allowed to participate in athletics until he has filed with the committee on eligibility a statement of all sources of his income. If any part of a student's income is contributed by a member of the faculty, an officer of the college, or a member of the board of trustees, he shall not be permitted to participate in athletic activities.

The committee provided by the board is composed of the dean of the faculty, and one professor and one student, both appointed by the president. The president has appointed, in addition to Dean Upton, Professor Edwards and Harry Meyer.

NEW DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Specialist in Basketball

Frosh and Sophs to Meet on Gridiron

A notice, issued from the President's office, has announced the election of William D. Banks, Bachelor of Physical Education, as Supervisor of Physical Activity at St. Stephen's with the title of Instructor in Physical Education. Mr. Banks, who is 30 years of age and married, will occupy quarters in Albee Annex. He graduated a number of years ago from the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College and while there had a fine record as a member of the varsity basketball, baseball, and soccer teams. Mr. Banks has been thoroughly trained in the coaching of all intercollegiate sports and in the management and direction of general physical culture programs. He is a member of the Central Board of Officials League and has been for years. In his senior year in college he was president of his class. His sport specialty is basketball, in which he is adept both as player and coach. Mr. Banks comes to us highly recommended by the leading basketball authorities of the country and by Dr. McCurdy of the

STUDENT CONVOCATION VOTES TO UPHOLD HONOR SYSTEM

Students Refuse to Pledge Themselves for Junior Dance

Freshman Officers Announced

That the Honor System of study and examinations in St. Stephen's is desired was proven at the first meeting of Convocation for this year, held in Memorial gymnasium, on Monday evening. At this time President Shrigley announced that both the faculty and the Student Council were desirous of having the Honor System retained as in time past, and that any suspensions of it had been only temporary. However, Shrigley said, it was up to the student body whether it should be kept or not. Retention of it meant one hundred per cent enforcement of it. He then went on to explain, principally for the benefit of the men of this year's incoming class, the provisions of the Honor System and its operations.

By a standing vote, 41-9, the student body expressed the wish that the Honor System be kept in force in preference to a proctor system, and that the other provisions of the former be retained.

Due to the fact that John M. Myers and Hurlbut Griswold did not return this year, their offices of Secretary of Convocation, and Marshall were vacant. Of the nominees presented, Chauncey Crandell, '27, and Wilbur Lown, '27, the latter was selected for the post of Secretary only after the first ballot had proven a tie. However, on the second ballot cast the tie was well broken, Lown being announced as winning.

Of three candidates put up, Frederick Richter, '27, Paul Whitcomb, '28, and Harry Meyer, '27, Whitcomb was elected to the office of Marshall.

Following these elections, the new officers and those chosen at the meeting of Convocation held last May were sworn in by President Shrigley.

Richard Dodd, president of the Junior class, was given the floor, and on behalf of his organization presented a plan concerning the annual Junior dance. He announced that inasmuch as the Junior class this year numbered but seventeen it was feared that they would not be able to finance the dance themselves. After some discussion the question was put to the student body as to whether they should agree to stand back of

Freshman Injured

Forester Hoag, who is one of this year's incoming class, is in the Vassar Bros. Hospital, Poughkeepsie, with a fractured spine as a result of an automobile accident which occurred in that city last week. He will be required to remain at the hospital until November 1, during which time it has been provided for him to take three of his subjects by mail. This work will be done by Hoag while he is on his back in a plaster cast.

Upon his return Hoag will take up his studies as a regular member of the Freshman class.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

President Offers Cup to Champion

The annual Fall tennis tournament will be under way by the end of this week, weather permitting. The result of the drawings will be published on the student bulletin board and it is hoped that the first two rounds will be played off by the first of next week.

Of last year's squad, only several players are left. The new men destined to fill the old places have made their appearances on the courts and it is hoped that the Fall tournament will sift out possible candidates for the varsity.

President Bell has offered a cup for the winner of the championship. This added inducement will surely quicken the interest in tennis. The President has also offered a cup for the winning team of an inter-fraternity tennis match. Scoring in this match will be arranged so that the number of candidates from each group will count, as well as the individual ability of the best players. In this tournament, the Freshmen will be considered as one team, the non-society men of the other classes as another team and the three fraternities will furnish the other teams. Permanent possession of the cup is given to the group which succeeds in winning it in three successive tournaments.

WELCOME FRESHMEN

"The Lyre Tree" takes this opportunity to welcome the class of 1930 to the college. You are to be envied in your unique position—coming new and fresh into the embrace of your alma mater, there to be nursed and guided to the strength of proud and intelligent manhood.

The College depends on you to carry on all that is worthy in her old traditions, and as you learn and grow, to develop her manifold resources to their fullest power.

You are to take your place in the various extra curricular activities, in athletics, dramatics, literary or musical work, debating or whatever others will profit by your support and cooperation. It is as important for you to do these things as to learn from books and professors. You make many mistakes, but they are to stimulate you to greater effort. While you are here, in the intimate contact with students and older men, you must take every advantage of the opportunities which are offered to make you wiser and deeper thinkers and better and stronger men. And so your alma mater bids you welcome and hopes for your success and happiness.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student government at St. Stephen's College begins a new era. All power of student discipline and activities is vested in the elected representatives of the Student Convocation with the assurance of the Board of Trustees that so long as the undergraduates show themselves capable of managing their own affairs, there will be no interference. This is a distinct advance over the system of other days and the success or failure of this experiment depends entirely on the men in college. If they value their privileges highly and conduct themselves wisely in their liberties, there will never be any necessity for change or trouble. Any form of government generates from the wisdom or folly of the governed; and oppression and abuse come more often from within than from without a system. Men in college should realize what conduct is compatible with the maintenance of a healthy and livable community life, and regulate themselves according to that standard. If this ideal condition prevails, we shall enjoy that year of prosperity and constructiveness for which many of us have long yearned.

"The Lyre Tree" exists as the medium for student news and expression of opinion. The newly elected Board of Editors intend to conduct the paper so that it may be a useful means for carrying on constructive work. They will do all in their power to present before the public accounts of all activities and in the editorials, correspondence, and "columns" to reflect the ideas and comments of thinking men. They will welcome any suggestions in the matter of administration or journalism, and hope also for the support of the students and alumni. Contributions of news articles and editorial comments are solicited from men other than those serving on the board.

All articles, letters, and other communications may be addressed to the Editor and must bear the writer's signature. Names of contributors, however, will be printed only at the Editor's discretion, or by special request.

Sophs. and Juniors Elect Class Officers

At a meeting of the class of '28 on Sunday, September 19, the following officers were elected: E. K. Nicholson, President; E. T. Hague, Vice-President; and Harry Dillon, Secretary-Treasurer.

On the following day the Sophomores elected R. N. Parcell, President; John Huse, Vice-President; Robert Burbank, Secretary; and John Nobis, Treasurer.

The Sophomore Council for this year is composed of the officers of the class and in addition the following: Chester Ritt, Karl Enzian, William C. Wilson, Robert Damitz, Theodore Moller, and Harold Keene.

NEW OFFICERS ON LYRE TREE

A meeting of the "Lyre Tree" Board was held on Saturday, September 18, to elect men for the position of Editor-in-Chief left vacant by the departure of Hurlbut A. Griswold, '27, and the positions of Associate Editors left vacant by the departure of George V. Moses '28 and Arthur G. Shirt '28.

The position of Editor-in-Chief was given to Robert D. Smith '27. The position of Business Manager was given to Harold T. Bartley '27, and that of Advertising Manager to Otto Faerber '27. Those of Associate Editors to Edwin T. Hague '28 and Herbert Millington '27. Chester Ritt '29 was elected on the Reporting Staff to act with Melvin P. Clark '29 and Oscar F. R. Treder '29, who were elected last spring.

The office of Managing Editor, left open by the departure of Lewis Hammond '27, will be taken over by the Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager. Three Freshmen reporters will be chosen later from those who sign their names on the notice in Preston Hall.

New Men on Faculty

The college has been fortunate in securing four new faculty members. J. E. Harry, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Classics, was formerly professor of Greek at the University of Cincinnati. He later held there the positions of dean of the undergraduate college; dean of the post graduate school; and acting president. Dr. Harry was also for some time professor of Greek Tragedy in the Sourbonne.

Alfred R. de Jonge, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Germanic Languages, is a graduate of the University of Berlin. He was in business in China for some time, and after his return to the United States he served in an editorial capacity on the Boston Herald, the New York Evening Mail, and the New York World. Dr. de Jonge received his degree at Columbia, where he taught for a while.

Harld Thalen, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics and Instructor of Physics, is a graduate of Tufts College, and received the degrees of M.S. and Ph.D. at the University of Chicago. Previous to coming here Dr. Thalen held the following positions:

Instructor of Mathematics at James Milliken University; instructor of Mathematics at Berea College; and professor of Mathematics at Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago.

Dr. Thalen has also had four years experience as a practicing engineer.

William D. Banks, B.P.E., Director of Athletics, is a graduate of Springfield Y. M. C. A. College. He played basketball there on the champion team of New England. Since he graduated, Mr. Banks has devoted his time to organizing athletics and coaching basketball and soccer.

Poison!

Recently one of my eccentric friends in a moment of mental vagary stepped blithely off Brooklyn Bridge and became soon after a member of the invisible choir. He left nothing to his heirs except a few note-books in which he had at very odd moments attempted to define with scintillating irony, a few persons and things. Their strange wisdom makes them worthy of publication.

1. Pendants are vain fools who half understand their learning and succeed in wholly confusing its truth when they attempt to impart knowledge to others.

2. Parents are misguided mortals who bear children and thereafter continue to be overbearing.

3. Schools are institutions in which the wisdom of youth is perverted into the folly of age.

4. A church is a place of worship in which hot air is released both by the furnace and the clergyman.

5. Pleasure is the bridge on which we pass from one boredom to another.

6. To be deceitful with success is to attain divinity.

7. The family is an artificial organization which makes quarreling with one's relations a necessity.

8. Clothes were made to conceal, when nature failed to beautify.

9. Brains are a peculiar formation of ugly grey material, mostly useful for display in biological laboratories.

10. Man is a self conscious animal which rates its intelligence in proportion to its being ashamed of its origin.

11. Ambition is another excuse for those who are denied leisure.

12. Fish are aquatic animals which become repulsive, only when prepared as food in colleges.

FROSH INITIATED

Sophs Give Class of '30 a Lively Evening

Sunday night was the scene of great activity on campus when the class of '30 went through the mill at the hands of the sophomores. During the day the freshmen were seen carving out the weapons for their own fate, and at nine o'clock they were led, blindfolded and clad in their pajamas, from the dormitories. Outside they were lined up with their hands on a long rope and the procession started.

Slowly the snake-like formation moved through Annandale, past Barrytown Corners, and over the hill towards Red Hook. All was noise with the sophs bellowing for a song, a cheer, or a recitation from some poor victim. Reticent and balky freshmen felt the sting of the prodding paddle and promptly complied with the order while upper classmen followed behind, on foot, or in cars, and enjoyed the treat. Names, embarrassing to the particular freshman but inviting to the sophomore paddle, were given out freely and when called the resounding smack of paddles was quickly heard.

Escorted by strong-armed sophomores on either side of the rope, the frosh plodded their way on, half way to Red Hook, where the procession stopped and split up into several groups. Some of the frosh were taken through Red Hook and others along the road towards Rhinebeck. When the sophomores thought that the frosh had had enough and that they were lost from college, they released them to let them find their way home. All of them reached campus in time, some of them more or less paddle-worn, and the first of the freshman-sophomore activities was over.

Y. M. C. A. College. Athletic authorities at Yale, Princeton, and Chicago unite in reporting to college authorities that the judgment of Dr. McCurdy in the matter of physical training direction was the most expert in the country; and Dr. McCurdy has been the chief advocate of Mr. Banks' appointment. Mr. Banks begins his work with us September 23, one week after the opening of the term.

Mr. Banks has already tried to find out what athletic material he will have for his teams and has posted lists for those men interested in the different sports to sign. Among the sports listed are soccer, basketball, baseball, tennis, lacrosse, track and field sports, cross country running, handball, volley ball, and ice hockey. When Mr. Banks arrives he will find that the freshmen and sophomore classes have already put their football teams in the field and practicing for inter-class games in that sport. Patterson is coaching the frosh and Watkinson the sophomore squad and both teams are practicing hard every afternoon. Interest in the sport is keen and the games ought to be good.

Both the basketball and the lacrosse schedules for 1926-27 have been kept as arranged last year and both sports undoubtedly will be very popular with the men. It is hoped that many men will respond to the calls for candidates and that the scarlet may be represented by strong teams. The basketball schedule includes games with Williams, Colgate, West Point Military Academy, Yale, Union, St. Joseph's, Dartmouth, St. Lawrence, Amherst, Fordham, Clarkson, and Middlebury. This, undoubtedly, is the heaviest and strongest basketball schedule that the College has ever had.

The class of '30 had elected their officers on Sunday afternoon, and President Shrigley announced that it was now permissible to publish the results of the election, and called upon the Freshman officers to rise and be recognized as their names were called. Those seeing America first thought it pedagogically wise to make New England a haven of rest.

Prof. Davidson found Maine a highly desirable spot for some weeks, moving down the coast to Boston and after seeing something of the surrounding territory visited the fabled Catskills.

Dr. Garnier motored extensively through upper New York to the St. Lawrence, visiting the noted Thousand Islands and Lake Champlain, returning by the Adirondacks. After a business trip to Chicago, Dr. Garnier feels he accomplished his greatest physical feat; that is, successfully frying an omelette. For a man this indeed requires a master.

Dr. Foster could have been found during the early summer weeks doing extensive work in the Harvard Research Laboratories. Later, however, Dr. Upton and Dr. Foster roughed it in the Maine woods putting part time in camping and fishing. Dame Gossip hath it that huge species were landed—Yes? Dean Upton found Richmond, Virginia, an interesting spot during the closing weeks of vacation.

Prof. Shero and family passed a quiet summer in the mid-Western city Milwaukee, reading and writing various articles.

Dr. Obreshkooe after eight months tedium with us relaxed for the summer months by studying in the Zoological Department of Syracuse University.

Mr. Flournoy, as has been his custom since we have known him, delved into the archives of the Congressional Library, the Carnegie International Peace Library, and the State Department of Washington, D. C. He managed to obtain breathing space by making pilgrimages to the Virginia Valley, Harpers Ferry and other places of historical interest.

Dr. Edwards, after completing his book "Natural History of Revolutions," attempted to forget his usual dignity by becoming a yachtsman of no mean repute. Next summer we may expect to see his yacht entered in some one of the cup races on Long Island Sound.

Messrs. Corti and Voorhees not content with seeing America first, took the first liner available and visited Paris and parts of Italy. Italy in their opinion was the most interesting country visited. Contrary to the belief of many visitors to southern Italy, our delegates found the climate far superior to that of New York in the summer time.

Mr. Libaire after spending most of the summer on campus, took a flying trip up to Nova Scotia.

Father Crosby Preaches First Sermon of the Year

The sermon on Sunday morning, Sept. 19th, was preached by Father Crosby, Chaplain of the College. The text was St. John XVI; 33: "In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." The evils that have always troubled mankind cause many to ask the question, "If God is good and omnipotent, why does He permit evils to exist?" Our Lord answers us by telling us that in the world we shall have tribulation; and the Church tells us not to ignore trouble, but to recognize it as the true source of comfort.

The love of God, the grace of Jesus, and the strengthening power of the Holy Spirit are given to us in the Sacraments; and make possible the attainment of the Christian life and the comprehension of God's disposition toward man.

By His incarnation, Jesus revealed the humanity of God and the divinity of man. He is fully aware of our troubles and His sympathy and pity are continual.

In the Collect for the day we plead for pity in the Church's spirit of humility. We ask for the cleansing of inward sin; for defense against destructive forces; and for preservation in the midst of internal and external dangers.

Our Lord never explained why evil exists, and therefore doesn't expect us to question why it exists; He expects us to triumph in surmounting our difficulties. His victory over the Cross, over apparent failure, and over the grave is ours to share with Him.

Familiar Faces Missing

The names of those in the latter category are listed below, with the college they are attending.

"Ed" Abramowski, "Ed" Vreeland, "Dick" Jacobus, "Doug" Mackean, and "Ned" Kroll are at St. Lawrence University; Tibbits and Wylie Sypher at Amherst; John Myers, Middlebury; Schollenberger, St. Bonaventure; Hurlburt Griswold, University of the South; Tinsley Harrison, William and Mary; "Bob" Gibson, Lehigh; "Tom" Cox, Centenary College; Charles Lundeen, University of Chicago; Horace Simcox, Temple University; "Doggie" Paul, Colgate; Jack Wilson, Cornell; "Collie" Weeks, Dartmouth; and Rogers, at Bowdoin.
