LYRE TREE

Vol. 8 No. 4 November 22, 1928

Page 1	Fall Plays Brilliant
C	Historic Ability Reaches Peak. Fitle Displays Professional Skill
	Rushing Season in Full Swing
	Scarlet Harriers Close Season
	Coach Reviews Season
	Prom Issue of Messenger
	Junior Prom Committee Announces Everything Set for Year's Great Event
	Blue-White Decorations Create Spectacle
	Plans Call for Tea Dances, Big Prom Dance, Breakfast Parties and Many Other Social Activities for St. Stephen's Wilson Loses Hard Match; Tennis Cup
	Warden Gives Armistice Address
	New Hockey Rink Nears Completion
Page 2	Editorial: The Prom Girl
	Editorial: The New Lyre Tree
	Book Review
	News Items
	Sports Editorial
	Alumni
	Higher Criticism
Page 3	Court Men Rest
	Editorial Opinion
	Frosh Filosophy
	Frosh Party
	Soccer Team Elects Lemley
	Annandale Distance Men to Marathon
	Fraternity Row
	Eulexian
	Kappa Gamma Chi
Page 4	Fraternity Dances
	News Items
	Inter Campus
	Brief Items

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE THE LYRE TREE Number 4

Volume 8

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON, N. Y., NOVEMBER 22, 1928

Fall Plays Brilliant | Scarlet Harriers Historic Ability Reaches Peak. Fitle Displays Professional Skill.

On the evening of November 15, at eight-fifteen, four one-act plays were given by the college mummers. Strange as it may seem, the first one started promptly. There was hardly a lapse of ten seconds between the schedule and the three to announce to us, the audience, that the curtain was almost about to be drawn.

Play number one -the interior of Hank's hexagonal shack on the By that is meant the ability to go end of a wharf: In this hexagonal shack with its two windows and through to the finish in such a one door were one table, two stools and a candle stuck in the working until the last man comes in. end of a whisky bottle. Not much scenery, but with a little romance six miles in length and wholly in one, and with the aid of a wind- hard road that jarred the body at machine, and a man's back- every step. As a result, the Midstage wailing, it wasn't hard at dlebury runners had a commanding all. Mr. Gamble, so called on the lead at the half-way point. Neverprogram, played the part of the less, the Scarlet runners plugprobably the hardest, toughest ged along and little by little cut young salt that ever sailed the down the lead until at the five mile seas. He reminded us very much mark St. Stephen's men were in of Captain Kidd's first mate-and second, fourth, fifth, seventh and that wasn't funny. And another eighth places. Just here a new difhimself an extremely difficulty role. of a long hill leading up to the blue and white. The scene is set with two waltzes in each half. With all apologies to those others finish. On this the Middlebury runof the actors, we believe this the ners had practiced much, and it Prom in St. Stephen's history. Let Dr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Bell, St. from any friendly international most difficult part of the evening, was here that they won the race. and to him we ascribe the honor St. Stephen's, however, although of the best individual acting. In it lost the race on this specially his last scene when he dies mad, prepared, heart breaking finish, has Junior Prom Committee, announces torn between frantic supplications nothing to be ashamed of. In or- that never before have the fates to Bill and wild disavowals to der to win, Captain Butler of the been so kind. Hardly a slip in any Hank, the drowned man, we see Vermonters had to run the course plans or preparations has been ex-Mr. Pope at his best, and we wish- twenty minutes faster than any perienced since the committee set ed he had died a little more slow- Middlebury may has run it. His to work early in October. Everyly. And Gamble could not have time was thirty-three minutes and thing has progressed with a shown more utter contempt for thirteen seconds, which, by the smoothness and rapidity that bodes death in someone else if he had way, was exactly the time made well for the Fall Party. Let us actually spit on the now dead Snif- by Williams two weeks before. fles-the weak-livered, consumptive Sniffles. The acting now all lowing order. Weber, third; Pope. over, there had to be some way to fifth; Fite, seventh; Bell, ninth; end the play-and the author goes Nobis, tenth; Riley, twelfth. way out to the sea, convinces it that it should get a little more work of Pope, a Freshman, who angry and induce it to break down the pier-so if we care to believe and found, as is often the case in pus is all smiles - the girls are all Refreshments, Wingate Snell, asit, the sea avenged the death of her cross-country, that he had ability lover. Hank.

seems, an eternity eating the family breakfast of four-minute eggs. And there's Snell as what's left of Hamlet after a marriage to Her

Bow to Middlebury - 21-34 St. Stephen's closed its second season of intercollegiate crosscountry with a trip to Middlebury where, although they were defeated, the men ran with a determination that is encouraging and bodes heavy thumps which were intended ill for the adversaries of next year. The Saints were defeated at

Middlebury, but they displayed the first real signs of cross-country "stuff" that the coach has seen. up against disadvantages and drive manner that the result is in doubt In the first place the course is us all rejoice.

St. Stephen's finished in the fol-

There is much promise in the came out to run for the fun of it of which he was entirely ignorant.

Play number two-A roadhouse At the two mile point he was trailin Arden, the beautiful fantastic ing the field and approximately a Arden laid low by farce. The cur- quarter of a mile behind the leader; tain rises on Settle's delightfully but, by the proper grit and the devilish face in the part of Robin mental drive to hang on to the job Goodfellow who spends, as it when some of his team-mates

Continued on page three Prom Issue

Junior Prom Committee Warden Gives Close Season Armistice Address Coach Reviews Season Announces Everything Set For Year's Great Event BLUE-WHITE DECORATIONS CREATE SPECTACLE

Plans Call for Tea Dances, Big Prom Dance, Breakfast Parties and Many Other Social Activities for St. Stephen's.

All St. Stephen's is in complete 'night supper in commons will not We have forgotten how destructive readiness for the Junior Promenade be served this year, but punch will the war was. With each new disof the Class of 1930. The campus be substituted at the dance. St. covery in the chemistry of warfare is "spruced up", the houses are Stephen's rather boasts of its we should the more shun national "spruced up", the fellows are punch made by the deft hand of strife. Also we forget its basic 'spruced up", -even the profes- Monsieur Louis Corti. The punch cause, 'Whence cometh even from sors are "spruced up", and it looks table is probably the most popular the lusts." as though the weather man him- station on the floor. self is "spruced up", and last of all, but far from the least-the procured by Walter Lemley from selfishness, causes war, and un-

Stephen's College. Dr. and Mrs. Lyford P. Edwards,

St. Stephen's College. Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Upton, St. Ste- New Hockey Rink

phen's College. Rev. and Mrs. K. O. Crosby, St.

Stephen's College. Mrs. Mary Otis Clarkson, Cler-mont, N. Y. Mrs. Andrew C. Zabriskie, Annan-dale, N. Y. Mrs. Christine Zabriskie, Annan-dale, N. Y.

the orchestra is here, the decora- Charles Miller, Chairman; Decorations are here-and the girls are tions: Leverett T. Smith, Robt. H. here! St. Stephen's once more as- Gamble, H. E. Hammond; Prosumes the role of host to a huge grams, Walter Lemley; Orchestra, number of fair visitors. The cam- John Hagen and Kenneth Harter; smiles, the fellows are all smiles, sisted by Mr. Louis Corti.

the cemetery and chapel are all Due to a comparitively small class of Juniors, the Sophomores The Golden Gate Serenaders late have worked hand in hand to make of California have been engaged $t_{\rm D}$ the Prom a success. Each mem-Continued on page four

With the event of Amistice Day falling on Sunday, Dr. Bell addressed the students at the chapel service on some timely topics regarding war. In the lapse of ten years since the signing of the Armistice, Dr. Bell has noted many evidences of the failure of the late war. There has been too much forgetfulness of its horror and bloodshed, indeed even to the extent that our youth still have an illusion that Romanticism is a definite and alluring element of war.

War is a disease. The madness The programs were designed and of national ambition, motivated by train crews on the New York Cen- Balfour and Co., of Attleboro, fortunately, the causes have not tral have purchased new suits of Mass. The cover of the parchment been abolished. Then Dr. Bell venoveralls. Finishing touches trans- program boasts a reproduction of tured the assertion that the next forming the gym into a palace of a Spanish galleon done in a dark war or even unrest in internationsplendor have been put on today blue with a silver seal of the col- al relations would be the result of so that a marvel or beauty will lege in the upper right hand cor- a domination by financial coercion. await the dancers when the open- ner. It is a highly artistic cut He quoted from the foreign press ing strains of the orchestra waft and is really quite different. Six- to give evidence that other nations Mr.—this time Mr. Pope took upon ficulty presented itself in the form their way through the fantasy of teen dances are scheduled, eight regard the result of the last election as an indication of the trend for the greatest, loveliest, the finest The patrons and patronesses are: of American thought to hold aloof relations.

Continued on page three

Nears Completion

The new hockey rink which has been under construction during the summer is nearing completion. It will be ready for use when the first good freeze comes.

Last year the team suffered The Junior Prom Committees: from a lack of proper place to practice. This, with the addition of the inexperience of the new team, made almost insurmountable difficulties for the Scarlet team to compete with. When the Saints played on a regulation size rink they were lost, and on their own rink there was no room in which to get away.

This year all that has been changed. The new rink is one hundred and ninety feet long and eightyfour feet wide. This conforms fairly close to the regulation size, which is one hundred and ninety by eighty-five. The large rink will give our fellows chance to show their real prowess.

A hard schedule

Immensity, the smoking Cleopatra. And Cleopatra, we've seen women like her somewhere, but we don't remember where- that's the effect of masculine biceps and short legs in a red gown. Yes, very forcibly was it brought to us that we have Nov. 23rd. A most worth-while	cuit. The Prom committee has been most fortunate in securing	Walter Lemly who defeated R. Wilson 6-1; 4-6; 6-1; 6-1; in the finals. This cup will be awarded sometime later in the year. Last year the cup for the group	The revised schedule is as fol- lows:
been secluded among nothing but publication is assured the subscrib-	of musicians.	with the largest number of points	Oponents Date Place men for the past few months when ers. The amount of interest shown we beheld the fickle lass, Immor- and the quality of material handed		was won by the Non-Society men. This year, however, the group cup tality. We overlooked her clow- into the editor's office has been nish walk and allowed ourselves most unusual, considering the num-		practically, in each group signed to sink within the depths of her ber of activities on campus to at-		his name on the list, but when the	Thurs. Jan. 17
Continued on page four tract the students' attention in the		time came to play the various fall session.	legiate Regattas at Poughkeepsie	U U	Sat. Jan. 19 and all functions of importance in the city. This is the first time an interior decorator has been engag-
In Full Swing a person who chooses to call him- self Baldean, and the other a true	ed to work on a Prom. The gym is transformed into a wonderland	scores put down on the list! Hence, Mr. Libaire decided that the cup	Wed. Feb. 13
It is always about this time of story, "Romance". An Essay on	of blue and white whose splendor	could not in all fairness, be award-	Fri. Feb. 15
the year that the Frosh emerge Chaucer is interesting especially	is greatly enhanced by an indirect	ed to any one group, so it will be	1 from their lowly estate to become from the standpoint of originality.			Sat. Feb. 16 the center of attraction. Dinners, In the fairly extensive poets' dances, smokers, bridge-parties and corner, will be found several choice other social functions find them selections contributed by students the social lions of the hour. The who, for the first time, have sent Fraternity Rushing Season has ar- in work for publication. However, will be the usual place for patrons
Continued on page three Continued on page four	and patronesses. The usual mid-	next spring.	Hamilton Clinton

Charles Miller, Chairman of the

The Prom dance favors are here, smiles. Let us rejoice.

furnish the promenaders with mus-

all rejoice.

LYRE `HE TREE

Editor-in-Chief

MELVIN P. CLARK, '29 Managing Editor Sporting Editor ROBERT H. GAMBLE '30 CHARLES S. NICOLAI '30

News Editors CLIFFORD A. ANGERER '29 LESLIE LANG '30 KENNETH PERKINS '29 ELTON M. DAVIES '31 ELLIOT B. CAMPBELL '30

Reporters

H. EDGAR HAMMOND '31 ARTHUR R. WILLIS 31 C. FLINT KELLOG '31 JEAN CULLUM '30

Business Manager WALTER LEMLEY '30

> Asst. Business Manager DAVID SCRIBNER '32

Advertising Manager Subscription Manager ALEX. A. ABRAMOWITZ '31 NICHOLAS GALUCCI '30 Asst. Advertising Manager Asst. Subscription Manager RONALD ORTMAYER '30 JAMES FUCAS '31

> Circulation Manager JOHN R. KINGMAN '31

The Lyre Tree is published semi-monthly during the college year by the students of St. Stephen's College.

Subscriptions and business communications pertaining to other than advertising should be addressed to the Business Manager. All advertising matter should be addressed to the Advertising Manager. All over-due subscriptions will be discontinued.

Price of Subscription

THE LYRE TREE .____$2.00 per year

"Entered as second- class matter October 26, 1922, at the post office at Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879."

Editorial

THE PROM GIRL When this issue of the Lyre Tree

appears on campus, the Prom Girl will be here. Her presence will indicate that the event to which we have all looked forward is at hand. For, the Junior Prom is the initial social event of the school year; it furnishes a pleasant break in the academic routine of September to the Christmas holidays. The Prom marks the culmination of all the hopes and fears which have been afforded it, and when Friday night comes there is nothing else but to enjoy the event. On it the Junior class has staked its reputation for entertainment; as individuals and as a group it has given much time and thought towards the guarantee of a successful Prom. Every Junior class does, and it is rare indeed that the dance of the third-year men is anything but a success. Of course. there is always room for dispute as to which Junior class has put on the best Prom, but it is possible to come to the agreement that

Here we might take up our atives of the Council will make the in another form as overexcitement consultations with Frank; third, a ties with which to contend. We theme-The Girl. To you, Prom annual class assessment of 50 and overemphasis; they cannot well have had to learn the styles of Girl, we are offering our best. cents for the Football Rally pretype which are at our disposal, to be separated, and to eliminate one While it may not be as good as ceding the opening game." is to destroy the other. experiment and learn which were some that have been given in the Yale News The ideal remedy for the situa- ings; fourth, a committee for the possible for us to use. A little past or will be given in the future, There is some consolation in tion is to give required exercise inspection of the arsenal at Seyreason would indicate to our critics for the present this dance reprethis score. to every student which will be of mour; fifth, a committee for the sents the highest hopes of the class that in two issues of the new which sponsors it and the student form perfection of style could not benefit in life after college. The reduction of the number successful method of accomplish- man committees to a minimum. body which supports it. It could be reached. Furthermore, to conhave saved them the trouble). All not be anything else but the best, sider "balance," few readers ever ing this end remains yet to be The only excuse for a soliloque corrections and criticism (always take into consideration the meseen. for the Prom Girl here as the guest is its interruption, and I see an destructive) are carefully and chanical limitations of printing of some St. Stephen's man is the promptly brought to us. But, we interruption approaching which 1 which prevent a make-up man will offer an excuse for this one. best girl possible, in his opinion, would rather have them referred from placing a seven-inch "story" My allotted space has come to an to share his enjoyment with him. to us than to the administration: Alumni in a five-inch space. A system of end. I close with the wish that Whether you have been here beit is a little more sporting. proof-reading has been settled all Freshmen will enjoy this their fore or whether this is your first upon whereby we hope to catch the We would like commendation first St. Stephen's Prom as much visit to this college, whether you ----errors which have caused some of for the good things which we do are fiancee, friend, cousin or sister, Rev. Edmund C. Bennett of Cenour more critical readers so much (such encouragement received but whether you are known to your esterdale, R. I., an alumnus of St. rarely from campus readers). We pain and grief. cort or whether you are coming Stephen's, was lately on campus here as a "blind date" (to use the Accidents will happen, and carewould like criticism of a construcfor a day or two, the guest of Dr. tive nature, given in a charitable vernacular), whoever you are, you |less mistakes will be made. The and Mrs. Fen. manner-and to us personally We are the best choice of the man who really unfortunate condition is that Mr. Thomas Galloway, St. Stewould like assistance from the is bringing you. St. Stephen's one always considers his neighbor's phen's '87, was a recent visitor on more able minds on campus, who gives you its heartiest welcome, faults greater than his own. Not campus. really could devote their talents to only that, but he looks for them and hopes that the next forty-Mr. and Mrs. Howard Koch of much better use than to criticism in preference to virtues. It is ineight hours will be one of the Artists' Colony, Woodstock, were teresting to sit in Commons and of those who work without thanks brightest times of your life. recent visitors on campus. Mr. and encouragement on a job with We hope that all this won't be watch the reactions to each new Koch, who is a graduate of St. Stewhich they do not care to trouble thought too sentimental. But if issue as it is distributed. For the phen's class of '22, is a lawyer, but themselves. it is we care little. There are col- most part it is read quietly and is at present engaged in writing We have received valuable help plays. Mrs. Koch is an artist. leges where men take their Prom with interest. On the other hand seriously, and look upon the Prom there are those few who will ne- from men not on the staff. Such Girl with proper sentiment. It will glect their meal to go through the a one wrote this issue's account not be harmful to St. Stephen's if issue, carefully searching for er- of the plays for us, and we thank supper was served after the tea The long winter nights are never too long for the man who wants dance. Two wardens from Vassar rors, misprints and misspelling, him. we do. M. P. C. acted as chaperones. M. P. C. (We hope that for this issue we to improve himself by study.

THE NEW LYRE TREE

A few weeks ago the Lyre Tree Board brought out its first attempt to make good its promise of "A bigger and better paper." Looking at it from all angles, all that we can say now is that the paper is bigger. We have been handicapped by the fact that when the Lyre Tree changed form it changed printers simultaneously, and since then the paper has been printed by a firm who has never before done the work on a Lyre Tree. We have been working as hard as possible to make for coordination between Board and printers, and expect confidentaly that with this issue our connection with them will be perfected. Our printers have worked night and day even when short of help to give us all the aid necessary in putting out our Lyre Tree's. We feel that we are now well acquainted, and questions of "style" and "make-up" are fairly well seltled.

In the transition from the old, which shows itself in one form as into the fecundity of college cats, rooms between the hours of 7 and four-column Lyre Tree to the new they are all good. 8 tomorrow night when representcollege patriotism or "spirit" and the committee to hold occasional form we have had many difficul-

Book Review

The author of "Soundings" has come forth with another new novel in "Harness." This newer work is a splendid bit of writing. The story is of Michael Gordon, who returning from the late war to his native England, is resolved to settle down in a wee cottage near London and write. Like many of more and more as a relic of the the returning heroes of his day, he | barbaric days of our ancestors. finds himself an outcast, as far as his own kind are concerned, so he must begin anew. He meets Pat- petitions involving personal enricia Wade, an old friend, who, like himself, is an outcast. The two find mutual interests and understanding. They marry and settle together in the cottage near London. Together they forget their bitter experiences of the war, and been overemphasized in larger unthe present seems an idyll of hap- iversities because comparatively piness to them. Financial trouble few students participate in these brews discontent and necessity demands that Patricia go on the the smaller colleges in spite of the stage and that Michael get busy on his writing. Money must be same. In larger schools such had, and they must get it for themselves. Patricia is an immediate success; Michael not so successful. The necessary money soon comes in, however, for Michael has turned from books to short stories. Patricia returns and love is triumphant. A son is born. Sylvia, a participants is lacking, press notisister of Patricia and an offspring of the Jazz age, enters the plot. Patricia is lured to the stage. Clarence Oberly, the leading man in her play, shows Patricia what a good time she has missed. She meets her admirers at dinners and dances and gradually slips from her old life with Michael. Sylvia plays the bird and whispers in Michael's ear about the situation. Michael clears his score with Oberly and returns home alone from a hurried trip to London. Patricia follows him home and domestic reconciliation is immediately effected. After all of these troubles the story must end happily---it does. "In his whole approach to the problem of marriage, Gordon beongs to the same family as Jim Hawthorne and Nancy in "Soundings." The rhythm is a return from jazz to Gregorian chant."

"Harness" is worth reading. It is not quite so good as "Soundings," but is as beautifully written. "It is exactly the kind of novel which becomes widely popular without having sacrificed fineness."

News Items

"All Freshmen are requested by the Student Council to be in their

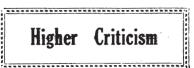

Sports Editorial

In the development of college athletics, there has come a grewing tendency toward sports without personal encounter. Physical encounter, whether individual or en masse, is less popular than in former days, being looked upon Boxing, wrestling, football, hockey, lacrosse and soccer are comcounter; while baseball, volley ball, cross-country, handball, swimming, tennis, golf, archery, fencing, bowling and horse-shoes are competitions in which personal encounter does not occur. The first class has games. The same thing is true of fact that conditions are not the games owe their popularity to the fact that a majority of the students prefer being entertained to actual participation, to the space devoted to them by the press and to sizable gate receipts. In smaller schools the multitude of nonces and gate receipts are necessarily limited, yet they, too, have emphasized the sports that can reach only a minority of the students.

An expression of this tendency has taken place on our own campus. With, the abolition of footof fencing, bowling and horseshoes. It is interesting to note, however, that the students taking up these new sports are in most cases those who were formerly non-participants. Yet we are by no means certain that the move has benefited the student body as a whole: we do know that there has been a great deal of dissension caused by it.

The question as to whether football is worth while or not still I can't understand it. This much faces the small college. Although in some ways contrary to the avowed purpose of the educational college life (--and perhaps a few system, it fosters a so-called "col- uninvestigatable ones besides) has lege spirit" which is desirable. got a Freshman committee to con-Games involving personal encoun- sider it. But there are still one or ter form a center around which two little things which they seem patriotism can cluster and grow. This may be deplored by many as respectfully draw their attention. nothing more than the arousing I suggest that the following comof primitive instincts, yet it con- mittees be formed: a committee tributes immeasurably to the life for the suppression of fantastic orof the institution. In no way can ders, operations probably to be lima college better advertise itself ited to the north side of Hegeman than by having a good football and perhaps the south side of Potteam.

It is one of the burdens of an all to burdensome existence that this column has to be filled for every issue of the Lyre Tree. It has to be filled, recital or no recital, and on the off weeks it is difficult to think up things to say.

Dear me, what shall be the subject of this week's column? This being a Prom week-end, something should be said appropriate to the occasion, and I would gladly write a whole column entitled "Advise to Prom Girls"-if I knew something to write. But I don't, so that's that. I would willingly fill much space with a review of Mr. Maurice Reckitt's excellent lecture of a week ago, but that subject is being handled so ably in another part of the paper that I can add nothing.

I suppose I shall have to resort to a subject already much talked of. I suppose I might as well say a few things about, and to, the Freshman Class. (Note-My roommate just shouted to me from another room asking what it means when an alarm clock runs down. I replied that it means that someone has been stupid enough not to wind it. Am I right, or am I not right?) As many people, ball has come a growing popularity almost too many, have already observed that the Freshman Class is an active one and has organized itself with a peculiar complexity, and although there has been much ridicule directed at this year's Freshmen for that very reason, let me say this, that their organization shows their brains. Their system of committees and sub-committees strike me as being particularly wonderful, chiefly, I think, because it's so intimate that is apparent, however, that rapctically every investigatable phase of to have overlooked and to which I It is the same element ter; second, a committee of inquiry committee for the prevention of monocle-wearing persons passing the plate in Chapel Sunday morn-as we thought we would enjoy the first one of our Freshmen year. News Items The Eulexian fraternity gave a tea dance on last Friday the sixteenth, at the "Whalesback" Inn. Mrs. Lyford P. Edwards was hostess for the fraternity. Guests of the college included members of the faculty and their wives, and twelve of the new men. A buffet

Court Men Rest Editorial Opinion While the portable stage for the plays has been standing in the gymnasium for the past two lest they lose their positions.

men were given a basketball examination.

is in view, with the large majority say that a very successful season of games won.

'The complete schedule is:

Dec. 1 Eastman ... Home 5 St. Michaels Home 8 Cooper Union _____ Home 15 St. Francis Home 20 N.Y. Aggies Farmingdale, N.Y. 21 St. John's _____ Brooklyn 22 Montclair A. C. ____ Montclair to the faculty, the latest innova-Jan. 11 Williams __Williamstown, Mass. freshman class. ----- Troy 12 R. P. I. 17 U. S. Naval Sta. ____ Newport we saw assembled the class of '32. 18 Rhode Is. State Kingston, R. I. its composite face shining with 19 Boston U. _____ Boston anticipation of the flow of soul 25 Brooklyn Poly _____ Home which their guests were to provide 26 Cathedral _____ Home Dr. Bell was good enough to represent the faculty in the capacity Feb. 4 Norwich _____ Northfield, Vt. of chief flower. He read selections 6 Army _____ West Point from Carl Sandburg with a fine 13 Albany State _____ Home feeling for the true emotional po-15 Upsala Home etry which lies beneath his decide-16 Pratt Institute Home ly unmetrical composition. 22 R. P. I. Home 27 Union _____ Schenectady a good time was had by all, including the freshmen who enjoyed Mar. 1 St. Josep's Home the pleasant novelty of tight tum-seemed to be having trouble, he all that sort of thing. gradually passed eight runners to finish in fifth place. Two years reached the Lyre Tree to the gen-Middlebury somebody will have to class in St. Stephen's. The Lyre place.

SCARLET HARRIERS Continued from page one

There were two defeats and one these rumors while they were yet and R. Wilson. victory. To the uninitiated that in their infancy, and ere their inwould appear to be a failure. In sidiously vicious tentacles could the first and second places, and amatter of scores it was, but the sap the very heart blood of the much more important thing is that college. our runners have experience to their credit. They are gradually no duty is to onerous, no expense Last year all these prizes were getting the cross-country techni- too great, no sacrifice of personal brought back to Annandale, the que and the cross-country spirit, comfort too severe, if thereby in- cup for the middle distance being and will, next year, begin to cash telligence of such serious import is won by Nobis, Fite and Weber who in on the basis apparently laid so secured for its readers. slowly. Successful cross-country teams cannot be developed in a breaking labor has been compiled. single year or in two years. It Reams upon reams of paper have takes literally hundreds of miles been used, rubber waste baskets the preceding race. of running over all kinds of ter- have been resorted to, strong men rain to harden the legs and lungs have fainted under the terrible to withstand the punishment of a strain, but the Lyre Tree (adv.) close and hard-fought contest. In has accomplished its aim, fact has addition it takes many races to been substituted for rumor.... bring a novice to the point where he feels like a veteran, where he doesn't suffer from stage-fright and where he becomes a judge of (Editors' Note: This article poid) pace and knows how fast he is go- (Editors' Note: This article paid weeks, basketball practice has been notice on the bulletin board re- institutions where the new men are retarded. Things are moving along garding organ recitals, which, as swept into a fraternity during the very satisfactory, however, accord- the notice distinctly states, are be- first week of their residence on ing to Coach Banks. All the men ing given every Thurday afternoon campus. Here, the fraternities are in good shape and working at 5:30. The fact that the recitals and the new men are given until hard. With some very promising are very poorly attended is not at Dec. 2 to become acquainted. At new material on the floor, last all comforting to the person at the midnight of this same day frateryear's regulars have to keep on console. It is true that the intheir toes every minute of the time, strument in the chapel is unadapt- mail boxes of the men concerned. ted for recital purposes owing to Thursday, November 15th the infirmities brought on by advanced day, no agreements may be entered age, nevertheless the recitals are into, nor fraternity matters disworth the time necessary for their cussed, between any representa-While it is too early to do much preparation and performance, and tives or members of any fraternity in predicting results, it is safe to should be more enthusiastically supported.

> (signed) X. Y. Z. Frosh Filosophy

> > FROSH PARTY

In the faculty recreation room

Put succinctly, if stereotypedly, mies plus the conscious glow of a permeating, revivifying satisfaction. A good deed well done, and Data, the result of much heart-

Rushing Season Continued from page one

Rushing at St. Stephen's is con-

For some time there has been a ducted more sensibly than in those nity Fids are to be placed in the Until 7:30 P. M. of the following and any new student. At 7:30 P. M., Dec. 3, the men who have received bids are to return answers in writing to the fraternities concerned through the Student Council.

It is to be hoped that this system, eliminating as it does the old system of pledging a new man on sight, will give the new men and This past Sunday evening saw the fraternities time to arrive at the unqualified success of a party definite conclusions concerning each other. The old collegiate tion attempted by our progressive tragedy of the man in the wrong fraternity should soon be a thing of the past.

Annandale Distance Men To Marathon

Last year the Poughkeepsie Courier' and the American Legion instituted a road race from Hyde Park to Poughkeepsie, a distance of six and one-half miles. This race is run on Thanksgiving Day.

In that race the Scarlet runners took the first four places outdistancing their rivals with compartive ease. The order was, Nobis, Fite, Weber and Dillin. Kelley and Gilreath took the seventh and eighth places.

Unsubstantiated rumors have This year a bit more competition hence when St. Stephen's runs at eral effect that there is a freshman is expected as the previous race aroused much interest among athstep along to keep him in that Tree (adv.) represented by a high- letes of various clubs and colleges. St. Stephens is to be represented ly competent staff of trained tech-The collegiate season is closed. nicians immediately decided to nail by Weber, Fite, Pope, Riley, Bell

> There are two cups given for wards for third and fourth places. There is also a cup for the runner The Lyre Tree (adv.) feels that first reaching the half-way mark. crossed the line with hands joined.

> > It is hoped that the Scarlet runners will bring back more trophies this year to be added to those of

Fraternity Row

On Thursday evening, October the twenty-fifth, The Eulexian Fraternity entertained at a dinner held at Whalesback Inn. About thirty-five men were present.

3

ing without anyone to tell him. Give the long-distance runners a chance; wait until after next year to find fault. In the mean- time try it yourself and see how it goes. Any "goof" can run a mile	Soccer Team	Fraternity rapidly draws near its completion. The roof is now being put into place, and out of the multi fold scaffolding and rockpiles, there is evidence of a very promising	PARTICULAR PEOPLE	FRESH FRUIT VEGETABLEES The Store of "QUALITY and SERVICE" in seven minutes, but before crab- bing about the runners, let him try to cut that mile down to five twen- ty-eight, the time of the first mile in the triangular meet.	On Thursday November 15th, the soccer team held a meeting to elect a captain. Walter Lemley was chosen to lead the "kickers" next year.	Eulexian Fraternity announces the pledging of Edward "Ted" Roberts '30.	ALWAYS PREFER	Telephone 63 Red Hook, N. Y.
St. Stephens 15, Hamilton 21. St. Stephens 72, Springfield 26, Mass Aggies 34. St. Stephens 34, Middlebury 21. WARDEN GIVES Continued from page one A remedy for the sin of war lies	Walt was one of the mainstays of the team this year. His feeding from the home territory up to the attack was the feature of every game. The soccer schedule is not yet completed. Williams and East Stroudsburg have been listed, Wil-	guests of Kappa Gamma Chi on the week-end of October the twenty-sixth. The architect's plans for the new addition have been drawn up. It is hopeful that work will begin	Ice Cream every flavor meets with favor DuBOIS SUPPLY CO.	Luckey, Platt & Co. The leading men's furnishing store this side of new on a supernatural basis. To live more closely by the religious pre- cepts whose value has been proven by the ages, is the way out or we must die. The situation is not hopeless -nothing is hopless. By easy conformity we rush headlong		ZIMMER BROS. DIAMONDS JEWELRY WATCHES 329 Main Street POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.	SPORTING GOODS AND SUPPLIES 321 Main Street Poughkeepsie, N. Y.	VORK CITY Poughkeepsie N. Y. Please mention THE LYRE TREE when building.

Junior Prom

Continued from page one ber of the class has been assessed five dollars. The dance will last from 9 to 3.

FRATERNITY DANCES

The final dances of the Prom party will be held Saturday afternoon. They will take the form of open house, informal tea dances. This portion of the Prom is considered by many to be the most pleasant of the entire party. St. Stephen's famous spirit of democracy is clearly in evidence as the couples motor up and down the Annandale road on their way to the various fraternity houses, gaily singing St. Stephen's and fraternity songs.

The guests of the Prom are:

Miss Elizabeth McKinner, Bryn Mawr College, Penna; Miss Alice M. Richards, Belvidere, N. J.; Miss Eileen Murray, Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; Mrs. J. Wallace Page Jr.; Miss Debert Elton, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Miss Annette Hallberg, Caldwell, N. J.; Miss Florence Bennett, Ardsley-on-Hudson, N. Y. Miss Laverne Roth, Buffalo, N. Y. Miss Mary A. Richards, Newport, R. I.; Miss Edith Helen Duffen, Schenevus, N. Y.; Miss Catherine E. Mellen, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Marion L. Jones, Utica, N. Y.; Miss Louise Guidire, New York City, N. Y.; Miss Ruth Kennedy, Portland, Maine; Miss Frances Hickock, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Miss Betty Berry, New York City, N. Y.; Miss Charlotte Zoag, Vassar College, Poughkeepasie, N. Y.; Miss Florence R. Phillips, Princeton, N. J.; Miss Mazory McCracken, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Miss Jean Ryder, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; Miss Charlotte Smith, New Paltz, N. Y.; Miss Marjorie Hawver, Hudson, N. Y.; Miss Theodora Peck, Bloomfield, N. J.; Miss Margaret Anthony, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Miss Mabel Hinshaw, Kansas City, Missouri; Miss Jeannette Hyde Haight, Syracuse, N. Y .; Miss Gladys Miller, Belvidere, N. J.; Miss Norma Craig, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Miss Helen Freeman, Governor's Island, N. Y.; Miss Virginia Meyer, Rye, N. Y.; Miss Betty Summerscales, Peekskill, N. Y.; Miss Sally Curtis, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Miss Catherine Dwyer, Syracuse, N. Y.; Miss Elinor Harris, Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Stanley Brown, Miss Catherine Dalton, Miss Beatrice Bergen, Mrs. Harold B. Phalen, St. Stephen's College; Miss Elizabeth Van Riper, New Paltz, N. Y.; Miss Edith Makepeace, Montclair, N. J.; Miss Mary Brown,; Miss Ruth Spaler, Smithtown, Long Island, N. Y.; Miss Mary J. Pickle, Passaic, N. J.; Mrs. Edgar Kroll, Miss Aloise Wood, Pittsfield, Mass.; Miss Sara Burbank, Pittsfield, Mass.; Miss Elizabeth Edwards, Montclair, N. J.; Miss Esther Porter, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Miss Emily Boone, Philadelphia, Pa.; Miss Irene Roth, Buf-Miss Vir

Continued from page one passionate eyes. The belly-rubbing

Francis Bacon and the light-headed Shakespeare were the two characters about which the farce was woven-and we wonder in seeing the difference between these two that anyone ever dreamed of confusing the two. Who started that argument anyway? And, tell us, who started that melodramatic duet, and tell us, why didn't the curtain crash down as they drew their swords instead of showing up those actors' failings. Perhaps, that last few seconds did add to the laughs but the sorry part is that those laughs were not directed toward Shakespeare and Bacon as characters, but rather toward the actors.

Play number Three—We were not quite prepared for seriousness and were inclined to laugh at the young oldster and his cigar. The scene is a room in the States Prison somewhere in Massachusetts. The opening conversation between the warden and the chaplain was more or less stereotyped and one couldn't help thinking all thru it, Listen carefully for the history of prisoner is about to be unfolded thru the mouths of these two!' The chaplain after a few minutes turned out to be what one would expect of a perfunctory chaplain -one who continually tries to impress that his duties were meant for the good of someone else's soul. And we sympathized with the prisoner and were inclined to pat him on the back and tell him to keep his soul. It was his business. He'd have to answer for it. We have heard a great deal of praise of Mr. Willis in the part of the girl, but we wonder at the demure girl of nearly eighteen whose feeling of disgrace would cause her to stare so at the warden. That made the stare brazen, which was a characteristic a little out of place in such a girl. Yet, we praise Mr. Willis. His part was well done. Perhaps we are too critical. The Turnkey and the black painted door as parts were in about the same class—both were more or less ornamental and somewhat necessary to the play, but beyond that-well, nothing. The fourth play was decidedly a farce. We held up our hands to display our feeling and say, "Ugh, impossible!" Here comes the blooming caller and we wonder about that lost silk hat—was it really lost? The laborer, the clergyman, and the policeman-they were a motley crew. The play might have dispensed with them. Yet they were funny, to look at. Gardener as the poet made a very hard job for the imagination, and we hear stories of them continually. He was truly the poet of traveling salesman stories. When we saw him come out on the stage A Laborer _____ Mr. Wise we heard it from several comers. "Gawd" Geats never said that. To A Poet _____ Mr. Gardner the "Ugh," and the "Gawd" we add A Policeman Mr. Davies one more word "bravo" and call it Something altogether new in coleges has been established in Brownville, Texas. Public Speaking is the only subject taught and the course lasts but three months. Phonograph records serve as professors. Examinations are given every week, and the value of each pupil is determined by the flow of words.

This is a College for Parrots. Already there is an enrollment of 1.500 birds from all over the world varying in age from five to eight months.

Frosh rules at Harvard in 1734 were very severe. The yearlings were forbidden to "laugh in a Senior's face, ask impertinent questions, or give impudent answers.'

Frosh rules to-day forbid swearing, playing at dice or cards, or ordering a strong drink in a tavern within two miles of of the col-Hath the Old Order lege. changed?

Prom Issue

of Messenger

Continued from page one this line has been graciously contributed by the Rev. John Mills Gilbert, an alumnus of this college. It is "Laurels", a sonnet.

The cover for this issue is a revival of one used in the early days of the magazine, between 1899 and 1905. The design is an interesting one, and has been adopted for con tinual use in future.

All in all an interesting issue may be expected, and deserving of the hearty support of the college group as well as outside subscribers.

Immortality, a fickle lass Mr. Thorpe sir Francis Bacon __ Mr. Pickering William Shakespeare __Mr. Wilcox Scene: Arden

Once upon a time. III.

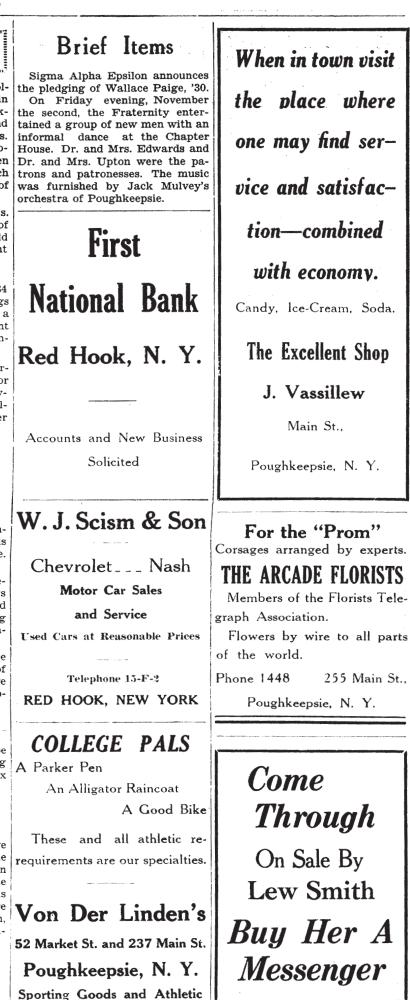

The Valient-A Tragedy The Turnkey _____ Mr. Bridge The Chaplain _____ Mr. Hague The WardenMr. Mulligan

The Prisoner _ Mr. Fite The Girl _____ Mr. Willis The Turnkey _____ Mf. Bridge Scene: A room in State's Prison, adjoining the Execution Chamber.

Toward Midnight.

IV. The Lost Silk Hat-A Farce.

By Lord Dunsany A Caller _____ Mr. Paul A Clergyman _____ Mr. Perkins Scene: A London Street

Outfitters

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE

Columbia University

A College of Arts, Letters, and

It Pays To Look Well Martell's

talo, IV. 1., Miss virginia Steel,		About Tea-time	Science, definitely and officially of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Catherine	Then after all that there was a	The plays were produced by the		Barber and Beauty
Woodward, Brooklyn, N. Y.	dance, if you care to call it that.	Faculty in the Department of Pub-	ecclesiastical restrictions in the se-	5
So it is that we say once more	Let's see, there were four girls	lic Speaking.	lection of its student body; incor-	Shop
-Let us all rejoice! The Prom is	from somewhere outside. Yes,		porated into the educational sys-	-
here.	you're quite right, those girls had	The plays were produced by ar-	tem of Columbia University and	SPECIAL ATTENTION a good time. Each one of them	rangement with the various pub-	conferring the University degree.
Kappa Gamma Chi, with her	started out by stying, "Nice plays."	lishers thereof and protecting their	It combines the advantages of	GIVEN guests, enjoyed a banquet at the	Of course, we all agree. But gosh,	copyrights.	university education with small
Chapter House, on Friday evening,		The audience was requested to al-	college's simplicity and inexpen-	St. Stephen's Men.
November the sixteenth.	town there? My boy, what a time	low for the convention by which	siveness.
The Kappa Gamma Chi frater-	itwould have been.	women's parts were played by men,	The College, founded in 1860, is	234 Main St.,
nity entertained some of the new	PLAYS AND CASTS	and to assist the players by tak-	equipped to teach men who, after men at a dinner on the evening of	I.	ing them seriously.	graduation, are going into business	Poughkeepsie, N. Y.
Friday, November 16th. The din-	Moontide-A play of Retribution.	Scenery Mr. Scribner	or into postgraduate schools of ner was served in the recently re-	tion.	Properties Mr. Fite	medicine, law, journalism, or theo-modeled chapter house.	By Colin Clements	Electrical Effects Mr. Hagen	logy, or into classical, scientific,
	Sniffles Mr. Pope	Coctumes Chrisdie & Co.	social or literary research.	COURTNEY'S LAUNDRY
NT I.		Publicity Mr. Clark
News Items	Scene: Hank's shack on the end	Music Mr. Harter	For Tuition, per year$300	Development In W
At North Carolina State College,	of a wharf Tonight		For Furnished Room, 150
a freshman was shot while raiding	II.		For Board in Hall 250	An or want of the second s
	A Roadhouse in Arden-A Pseudo-	about the directors, Dr. Bell, Mr.	There are some competitive	SEE the school's apple orchard.	Historical comedy which explains	Crosby, and Mr. Voorhees. With-	scholarships and a few bursaries
Among the new fiction books ap-	the origin of a perpetual contro-	out these men the plays would	for men contemplating Holy Or-	LEEL AND FITE pear two which are quite interest-	versy.	have been an impossibility. And		Campus Representatives
ing, "Nero" by Desider Kostolany,	By Phillip Moeller	last but not least, Mr. Scribner	Address: which has been translated from the	Robin GoodfellowMr. Settle	who worked on the scenes and who	BERNARD IDDINGS BELL, D.D.,
German, and the new book by the	Hamlet, Robin's fatherMr. Snell	spent a great deal of time in the	Warden
Englishman, Alec Waugh, entitled,	Cleopatra, wife to Hamlet	work, and a sort of work that is	Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y.	Quality Work Prompt Service
"Nor Many Waters."	Mr. Andrews	often overlooked.	(Railway Station: Barrytown)	,