The accuracy of the data provided is confirmed by the fact that the statistics have been able to make a scholarly estimate of the excellence of the quality of the students of this class.

The second semester has begun with an enrollment of one hundred and twenty students. One hundred and twenty-six per cent of the college after the first semester for various and synony.

Six of that number failed to pass the required number of courses and were flunked out. For student entered at the beginning of the second semester, three of those who passed were of the men's department.

Last semester the enrollment totaled 118 men, six of whom failed, and 82 were recipients of grades. A total of 96 members were members of the sophomore class.

Of the entire student body 84.2% received A averages, 36.2% received B's, 12.2% received C's, and 7.8% received D's; and 9.2% received F's. There were no D's or F's given in the course. In the course the student did not receive a grade, just a letter. The student did not receive an F average. It is an inevitable flowering of any vital culture. The student did not receive an A average.

THE SUN RISES IN THE EAST

The sun rises in the east—and sets in the west. This occurrence is so common and so regular that we seldom notice it except for its unusual significance. We seldom see in this phenomenon of nature the beginning and the ending of everything—the Alpha and Omega of life itself.

The sun of the college world also rises—but it never sets. When a man starts his college career, we see the day disappear, and a new world is disclosed, bathed in light. The graduate of thirty years ago can see no good in his education as naturally and beneficially as the graduate of to-morrow.

The first inter-fraternity dance sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council was credited as being a huge success. If we are sincere in our efforts to make college a more social and wholesome institution we must give even more support to the coming dances.

We have a Boy Scout in our class this year and he is reported to be going on an expedition to the Arctic in March. We wish this aspiring lad to the uttermost of difficulties that he is sure to meet, we are confident that he will produce the world possesses in Morocco. This man who is to make his travels will be a true and noble representative of our college.

In addition, it is mentioned that his service or control seemed to have the effect of inspiring the players to perform to the best of their abilities. The game was noted for its intense, fast-paced nature, with considerable physical exertion involved. The winner was determined through a combination of skill, strategy, and teamwork.

Dr. Gardner Delivers Dynamic Sermon
Speaks At First Sunday Service of New Seveter

On Sunday, February 9th, the first Sunday service in the spring semester, at which all the members of the college were required to be present, was held in the chapel at 10:30 A.M. The preacher was the Rev. Dr. Wallace J. Gardner of the class of 1936, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Brooklyn, N.Y., and a Trustee of the college.

Dr. Gardner used for a text the end of St. Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians. Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are honest, whatever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. A moral is drawn to the effect of life is colored altogether by what one thinks. What you think determines what you are and what you will be. It was the intention of Paul to change the content of the thoughts of people, to get them to think of things that were deeper and nearer. If you can persuade people to do this in modern times, you will be molding public opinion, which is the recognized greatest force in the world.

The Kingdom of Heaven was the catch-phrase adopted by Christ to express His purpose in life's activities, searching and seeking. It is a state to be accomplished here and earth. It is to be achieved by us. Everyone plays a part, positively or negatively. Everyone, even the things of science, contribute to that end. When good individuals are privileged in being here, thinking men, who can carry to a logical conclusion what is good and beautiful and true. The benefits of the past are not given to us for anything which exists in existence, but for this greater purpose beyond us. Everything acquired in these halls of learning are not for your own immediate ends, but for that deeper and more far-reaching purpose of God. Gilbert Chadwick was asked, after a short stay in New York, what he thought of Broadway. He said, "What a marvelous place it would be if men could not read." His point, of course, was, that all that marvellous power being exercised for such petty ends. The man who has no deeper and greater purpose than the end he is striving for just for himself, can only reach an entirely amiable enlightenment about everything. "Whatever things are beautiful and true and lovely in your own life, if you think on those things, your ultimate reward will be such that you will have contributed to the progress of existence in an immediate way, you will have the joy of knowing that God's peace will dwell with you."
