The last game of the season was played at Annandale on Hudson, New York. The game was one of the closest in recent memory. The final score was 2-1, with the Saints winning after a thrilling 12 inning battle.

The game started with a bang, as the Saints took an early lead in the first inning. However, the Pratt team fought back, tying the game in the fourth inning. The game remained deadlocked until the 12th inning, when the Saints finally scored the winning run.

Commencement Program Close to College Year

Ceremonies of Seniors’ Algebra Class came to a close on June 7th. The annual farewell dance was held at the college, and the students enjoyed a night of music and fun.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Senior Class Gift to the college. The gift was a beautiful and symbolic representation of the students’ appreciation for their time at St. Stephen’s.

The evening concluded with the traditional Senior Class Song, sung by the entire student body.

At 9:30 P.M., in the Warder’s room, a formal dinner was held in honor of the retiring faculty. The dinner was followed by a reception, where students and faculty mingled and shared their memories of their time at St. Stephen’s.

The evening concluded with the presentation of the Senior Class Gift, which was accepted by the college administration. The students hoped that the gift would serve as a reminder of their time at St. Stephen’s and the friends they had made there.

The evening was a fitting conclusion to the senior year, and everyone was looking forward to the upcoming summer break.

To the Alumni

The Editors wish to express their appreciation of the material assistance which the Alumni Association of this college has given the Lyre Tree, without which this issue would have been impossible.

The Alumni Notes have been contributed by the Rev. Algernon V. peanut '31, Editor of the Lyre Tree, Mr. Packard has been invaluable assistance to the Editors.

Repetition for Emphasis

The Lyre Tree, within the memory of the present Editors, has been conducted on such principles that are absolute, impartial, in so far as campus politics and fraternities are concerned. With the installation of the present Board, a statement appeared in this paper definitely stating the policy of that Board. The purpose of the present Editors is to maintain that policy.

Certain articles in the last edition of the Lyre Tree have given more space than similar reports in the past have been given. Numerous complaints were received by the Editors about that fact. Not one of these complaints was written, else we should reprove them. In the present issue there are several omissions which have been necessitated by circumstances which arose with the date of this issue and Examination time. However, the same complaint can be made of this issue as the last.

We trust that our "sins of omission" will be thoroughly investigated before complained about. We also hope that critical comments in the future, verge on slanders. That will not be tolerated. We hope our position has been made perfectly clear.

Alumni Day

The Alumni Day celebration was really a success! There couldn't have been many who returned to campus, but the attitude of those who did return was commendable.

Fraternity cooperation seemed thorough. Faculty cooperation was excellent. If the experiment is carried out next year in the same spirit, the idea will undoubtedly be perpetuated.

Oratorical Contest

The last of the Arguments and, with a marvelous effect, completed the Children of Israel before Jerusalem, the walls of construction fell, but almost the last wall is being used to this day as a testament to the power of a great force. If one or two more of them fall, I doubt if it will be delivered with the same effect. Can it be that there is anything left which is the heart of the problem, presentorily one of them as a reality but absolute in its influence and sufficient to cause the Industrial System to fall? As it does America today. Nothing is possible when the essence of the problem is not suggested. And reality, so part of our life, moves so clearly down to peace. For the Industrial System contains itself the seeds of its own destruction. Our modern industrial system is a monster which should be stopped and for its continued existence upon the planet.

In the first place, to live the system means grow. Everything must give way to the large and successful issues with "man" things, not wars, not things, not anything. If prosperous industrialism is to continue, it is the "Handbook" of seven years ago attacking at the names of Jesus, Shadrac and Barca, and one declare that industrialism, socialism, revolutionism, anything or anything we set down the end of the word. What would they say if it were 1992? Francis were living with us. And it is becoming the fate in America today.

One of the men who have tried it appeared in that way. "Insane," the newspaper. There is a certain spirit in that that may have always tried to vie with facts in a great way. The American said that man was given speech as an instrument of the mind. It is spoken that men have not in our society a certain purpose—to show to someone from itself, cold, not "quenched," "convention," what you have.

This is the idea of the future in America today.

The American has built up its pattern on the popular age of this sort of nonsense coming in extremes. It was a great evolution of which that has been tried to vie with facts in a great way. The American said that man was given speech as an instrument of the mind. It is spoken that men have not in our society a certain purpose—to show to someone from itself, cold, not "quenched," "convention," what you have.
