New Head of Greek Department
Dr. John C. Robertson, for Twenty-eight Years Professor of Greek, Resigned to Take Up Work in the City

Progress in Financial Campaign
Member of the Board of Trustees Resigns
Mr. Robertson Not in Sympathy with the Board's Actions

Dragon Club Notes
Convocation
The Glee Club

Frosh-Soph Activities
The Flag Scrap
Frosh Are Easy Victors over Sophs

Fraternity Notes
Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Kappa Gamma Chi
Eulexian

Alumni Notes
Another Bishop Among the Alumni

[Editorial]

Athletics
Football Review!

Hallowe'en Party
Thanksgiving

Bark from the Lyre Tree
What Is Air?

BEFORE 1894 every chemist thought he knew what air is. "A mechanical mixture of moisture, nitrogen and oxygen, with traces of hydrogen and carbon dioxide," he would explain. There was so much oxygen and nitrogen in a given sample that he simply determined the amount of oxygen present and assumed the rest to be nitrogen.

One great English chemist, Lord Rayleigh, found that the nitrogen obtained from the air was never so pure as that obtained from a boiler. There was so much oxygen and nitrogen in a given sample that he would explain the recovery of new facts.

There was no practical end in view—merely the discovery of new facts.

A few years ago the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company began to study the destruction of filaments in exhausted lamps in order to ascertain how this happened. It was a purely scientific undertaking. It was found that the filament evaporated—boiled away, like so much water.

Pressure will check boiling or evaporation. If the pressure within a boiler is very high, it will take more heat than ordinarily to boil the water. Would a gas under pressure prevent filaments from boiling away? If so, what gas? It must be a gas that will not combine chemically with the filament. The filament would burn in oxygen; hydrogen would conduct the heat away too rapidly. Nitrogen is a useful gas in this case. It does form a few compounds, however. Better still is argon. It forms no compounds at all.

Thus the modern, efficient, gas-filled lamp appeared, and soargon, which seemed the most useless gas in the world, found a practical application.

Discover new facts, and their practical application will take care of itself.

And the discovery of new facts is the primary purpose of the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company.

Sometimes years must elapse before the practical application of a discovery becomes apparent, as in the case of argon; sometimes a practical application follows from the mere answering of a "theoretical" question, as in the case of a gas-filled lamp. But no substantial progress can be made unless research is conducted for the purpose of discovering new facts.

The Messenger

VOL. XXVII. DECEMBER, 1920 No. 1.

New Head of Greek Department

Dr. John C. Robertson, for Twenty-eight Years Professor of Greek, Resigned to Take Up Work in City.

New Head of Science Department Also.

The resignation of Dr. John C. Robertson, who was for eight years Hoffman Professor of the Greek Language and Literature, was accepted by the Trustees last Spring. Dr. Robertson resigned to take up work in New York City. The chair of Greek is now occupied by Dr. Lucius Rogers Shero.

Dr. Shero was prepared at Yeates School, in Lancaster, Pa., for Franklin and Marshall College, and for Haverford College, where he received his B. A. degree. He was graduated from Haverford with General Honors, Final Honors in Latin and Greek and as a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He was tutor in Greek at Friends' Select School (Philadelphia) 1909-10. For a year afterwards he took work in Latin and Greek at the University of Wisconsin, from where he received his M. A. degree in 1912. He was a Fellow in Latin and Greek at the University of Wisconsin for the years 1912-13 and 1913-1914 respectively. In 1914 he became Rhodes Scholar at Oxford for three years, from where he received a B. A. degree with Final Honour School of Literae Humaniores, after which he was assistant Master at Winchester College, England. In 1917 he accepted the position as assistant Professor of Latin at Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn., which position he held for two years, after which he was made Professor of Latin, 1919. In 1919 he received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Wisconsin after writing a thesis entitled "Studies in the Conventional Element in Roman Satire."

We are indeed fortunate this year in procuring for our Biology Department Dr. Phineas W. Whitman. Dr. Whitman comes (Continued on page 4.)

Progress in Financial Campaign

$83,490 out of $150,000 already collected. Only $66,510 to be raised before June.

A LUMNIS and friends of the College will be interested to know of the progress of the campaign for one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Up to the present time the following gifts have been received:

Gymnasmium fund raised by Mr. Fiske ............ $20,000
Trust fund raised by Mr. Fiske ...................... 6,000
Students' gymnasium fund ......................... 1,100
Alumni gymnasium fund ........................... 4,000
Mr. F. M. Kirby, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. ....... 10,000
Small pledges less than one hundred ......... 490
M. W. J. Tully .................. 1,000
Mr. Coleman T. DuPont .................. 5,000
Bishop Mathews, of New Jersey ............. 1,000
Bishop Burch, of New York .................. 500
Mrs. Horace Brock ................ 1,000
Diocese of Central New York (Hagerman Memorial) ............ 2,000
Mr. John A. Hance, of New York .......... 2,500
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newkirk, Newark, N. J. ......... 2,000
Dutchess County fund ......................... 1,000
Anonymous New York friend ............... 5,000
St. Thomas' Church, New York ............. 1,000
Trinity Church, New York ............ 1,500
Trinity Church, Mt. Vernon ............... 300
Rev. Dr. Jessie, Buffalo ..................... 800
Mr. John Chaloner .................. 1,000
St. John's Church, Germantown, Pa. ........ 1,000
Rev. Dr. George Holden ............... 100
Mr. and Mrs. George Zahrtziek ......... 1,000
Vice-President of Metropolitan Life Co. '90
All Saints', Boston ....................... 600
St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston ............. 250
St. John's Church, Larchmont, N. Y ........ 1,000
St. Mary, the Virgin, New York .......... 1,250
St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia ........ 1,000
Rev. H. McHolt, Trinity Church, Niles, Mich. ............. 300

(Continued on page 4.)
Member of Board of Trustees Resigns

Mr. Robertson Not in Sympathy With Board’s Actions.

William C. Robertson has resigned as member of the Board of Trustees, expressing the opinion that he is out of sympathy with the rest of the board. Mr. Robertson deemed it unwise to build the gymnasium at this time, thus incurring an additional financial burden. His resignation was accepted with regret and the trustees are carefully considering who may best be elected in his place.

At the annual meeting in October the following officers were elected:

Chairman—Bishop Burch.
Vice-Chairman—President T. B. B. Bell.
Secretary—Mr. William Harrison.
Treasurer—Mr. Philip S. Dean.
Chairman Finance Committee—Mr. Haley Fiske.
Chairman Educational Committee—Rev. H. E. W. Potter.
Chairman Administration Committee—Rev. Lawrence Cole.
Chairman Auditing Committee—Mr. Henry Young.

Convocation

A meeting of Convocation was held on Tuesday, September 22nd, 1920. The main purpose of this meeting was to organize the student body and to introduce the new men into of-icial college activities.

On October 13th, there was a special meeting, at which it was decided to have a masquerade party on Halloween.

Another regular meeting of Convocation was held on November 19th in Preston Hall, at which it was proposed to present Professor McDonald with a wedding gift, in appreciation for what he has done for the students of St. Stephen's College.

Dragon Club Notes

On the evening of October 20th, the Rev. Dr. William Harman Van Allen, of Boston, gave a lecture on modern spiritualism under the auspices of the Dragon Club. Dr. Van Allen's lecture was timely and instructive. He has for a number of years been active in psychic research, and has become very well known in this branch of study. After the regular lecture Dr. Van Allen very kindly gave an informal talk in the library on kindred subjects.

Captain Hugh S. Martin, formerly of the United States Army, and for several years attached to the Embassy at Petrograd, lectured on Bolshevism on November 30. Captain Martin came excellently recommended, especially by Ambassador D. R. Francis, and since his study of radicalism has been so thorough, we cannot but feel that his opinions and observations are authoritative. He revealed the gross economic fallacies in Bolshevism, and its moral and ethical menace. We were very glad to have this side of the question put to us at this time. We needed something to show us the real danger which confronts the future of our own country, and that of the civilized world.

The Dragon Club has an excellent list of lecturers on its programme for the year, and intends to offer its patrons the opportunity of hearing the best speakers in as wide a field
as possible.

The Glee Club

The first assembly of the Glee Club was held just before the Thanksgiving recess, and more than twenty cadetates were taken on the "squad." These, added to the dozen or so from last year's club, will afford material for a carefully selected team to go on tour in the late Winter.

The Glee Club, like the foot-ball team, is virtually a new organization this year. For the first time since the war, there is sufficient material to make selection possible, and to equip equally the various parts.

In the making of this new club too high praise cannot be given to the men who in the last two or three years have held loyally on, maintaining regular rehearsals and devoted interest in spite of the discouragement of small numbers and scarcity of voices. These men have shown conclusively and decisively, that St. Stephen's wants a good glee club, and can count on every man to do his best in getting it.

During the long indoor season between Thanksgiving and the Spring vacation, the Glee Club provides an opportunity for fellowship which is of special value at a time when the tendency is to fall into little groups which make for friction and discord; it affords plenty of scope for the exercise of a whole-hearted spirit which is of special value at a time when the whole college will have the opportunity of learning to sing enthusiastically the songs of the campus.

Therefore, fellow-collegians, if you have any talent, use it for the College through the Club;
and if you can't sing, help the cause along by giving a hand to those who sing your college's praises for you.

WEDDING.

On Thanksgiving Day, the Rev. M. S. Mc-Donald, Professor of Philosophy, was married to Miss Louise Schwar, at Rock Hill, South Carolina.
Frosh-Soph Activities

THE subject of this article might well be, "It is a long worm that has no tail." Well do we remember the triumphant attitude of 1923 last year when she with great might overcame the then sophomores in every battle. But pride goeth before a fall, and all that sort of thing, as 1923 can now testify.

The Sunday evening stillness was broken on September 26th by a raucous mixture of sounds which we took to be the new yell of 1924. The frosh were loudly "raspberried" by the sophs, and the college settled down again to study, but not for long. Within a short time the hue and cry was raised that there was a fight going on in old "Battle Alley." Hastening to the scene, we found the first floor of Aspinwall withithing with humans, tugging, straining, yelling. The frosh were decidedly getting the best of it, several sophs were already securely tied, and others were quickly overpowered. There was much good fighting on both sides. The freshmen are to be commended for their maiden battle, and the sophs for their sportsmanship, although useless resistance. A few were temporarily put out, but came around again and the party broke up in good spirits.

Some sophs claimed that they were not given a fair chance, but we hope that they will have the opportunity to show their ability on a fair field in the near future.

A few sophomores who have inherited the second lieutenant's bars are to be congratulated on enforcing the freshman rules, and it is to be hoped that the others will wake up to a sense of responsibility. Now that the football season is over, we hope to see more evidences of inter-class spirit, and are looking forward anxiously to the flag scrap.

NOTICE!

Owing to unforeseen circumstances the Editors of The Messenger have found it impossible to publish an issue of The Messenger this year before this date, but with this number The Messenger will begin to be published monthly.

The Flag Scrap

Frosh Are Easy Victors Over Sophs.

If we printed an account of the annual Sophomore and Freshman flag scrap, and gave an overwhelming victory to the Class of 1923 we would be printing something almost unprecedented in St. Stephen's, as well as giving the idea that the Freshmen did not always win the flag scrap, as they did in "the good old days". No, not even in this advanced day were we able to see the Freshmen in rope borrowed for the occasion, and laid off in heaps somewhere while the triumphant Sophs limped and softly climbed the tree and with the Frosh battle flag safely tucked away for the season, proclaim themselves victors of the fray.

The rush which took place on the afternoon of November 30th was, of course, quite one-sided. The Freshmen outnumbered the Sophomores about two to one and the location which was on the bank on the northwest of Luslow Hall was very advantageous to the defenders.

When the whistle blew at 3:15 p.m., there was a grand scramble around the tree and very soon the fighting was on the grass at the foot of the bank. Whenever a Soph, who after great struggle had liberated himself, made for the tree on which the sheet was tied, he was pushed back again into the fray by no gentle touches from those guarding the tree. Otto Simmons, '23, starred in this spectacular charging towards the tree, and Kaster and Howell also kept the Frosh quite worried for a while.

The superior number of the Freshmen soon told upon the Sophs and Hoefling '23, and Libby '23, who had fought gallantly for about seven minutes, were knocked out.

When the whistle blew at 3:30 p.m., the Freshmen flag still floated (or rather was suspended) over the battle field, and amid cheers and bright remarks, it was removed by the Freshmen.

As this issue goes to press we learn that the Sophs have successfully taken the Frosh battle flag and laid it in some spot as yet unknown to the bereaved Frosh. Well, it was ever thus!

Fraternity Notes

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON.

On October 11th, the following men were pledged to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon: Coffin, Allen, Willmarth, Lowen, Beckett, Barry, Sergent, F. White, H. Simmonds and Stewart.

The following Sig-Alph Alumni have visited the campus this Fall: Treder '01, Probst '88, Simmonds '95, Libby '23, and Augustus McCormick '23, were teaching at St. John's University, Shanghai, China.

KAPPA GAMMA CHI.

Palmer '10, and Alonso Wood '17, Morse '16, Whitcomb '16, Glasser '14, were among those who visited campus this Fall.

The "Kaps" have the "DuBois house," northeast of the college, as a fraternity house this year. The opening of which was marked by a reception on Saturday, October 9th.

On Friday evening, October 8th, Albain, Richey '23, and Augustus McCormick '23, were "Kapped."

EULEXIAN.

The following Eulexian alumni have visited the campus this year: Bleeker '76, Steele '18, Hunt '20, Albimson '18, Burton '11, G. S. Silliman, Knapp, and A. J. Wilson '14.

Albinson '18, and Mrs. Albison were guests on the campus the latter part of September.

A. J. Wilson, '14, has recently returned from abroad, where he spent a while in visiting his mother in Belfast. While there he was able to obtain first-hand information upon the Irish question and subsequently has delivered several lectures concerning it both in Poughkeepsie and Newburgh.

Kehoe Dean, '89, is at present very sick in bed, suffering from heart trouble resulting from a cold.

On Friday, October 8th, the Eulexian Fraternity celebrated its sixtieth birthday anniversary.

Another Bishop among the Alumni

The Reverend Robert H. Mize, of St. Paul's Church, Kansas City, Kansas, has been elected to the Bishopric of Salina. He is a member of the Eulexian Fraternity and was graduated from St. Stephen's with the Class of 1894. From the alumni of St. Stephen's there have been five Bishops elected.

Alumni Notes

On October 11th, the following men were pledged to Eulexian: Andrews, Everett, Franklin, Gifford, Jones, Lewis, Libaire, Smith, and Bradford White.

On Thursday evening, November 18th, Philip Brooks Franklin was initiated. Bleeker '76, was present to assist and was joined by another alumnus, Wilson '14, at the Hoffman Inn, Red Hook, where an enjoyable banquet was provided.

The Rev. Johnson A. Springstead has resigned as rector of Christ Church, Sherburne, N. Y., and accepted a call to the rectoryship of St. Luke's Memorial Church, Utica, N. Y., to take effect September 1st, 1920.

The Rev. Frank Goosaday, formally assistant at the Chapel of the Mediator, Philadelphia, accepted the call to the rectoryship of the Free Church of St. John, Kensington, Philadelphia, and took charge November 7th.

The Rev. William Edward Berger may be permanently addressed at 208 Washington Street, Beaver Dam, Wisconsin.

The Rev. Stephen Gardner, of Washington, D. C., has accepted a call to become the rector of St. Peter's Church, Washington, D. C.

The Rev. Gerald H. Lewis, priest in charge of St. Andrew's Church, New Paltz, N. Y., has accepted a call to become rector of St. Andrew's Church, Beacon, and St. Mark's Church, Chelsea, N. Y., and assumed charge on October 1st.
THE MESSENGER

Editor-in-Chief
WILLIAM A. M. PARKER, '21

Assistant Editors
DONNEN R. E. STRONG, '21
HOLLIE W. COLWELL, '21
HARRIET TURNEY HUGHES, '21
HOWARD E. KAG, '21

Exchange Editor
GORDON L. KID, '21

Business Manager
HERBERT A. DONOVAN, '98

Business Managers
JOHN B. LIBBY, '23
ROBERT HURBS, '23
JOHN LYTTLE, '23

The MESSENGER is published monthly during the term College is in session.
Subscriptions and other business communications should be addressed to the Business Manager.
All subscribing orders will be discontinued.
Price of subscription, in advance, $1.00 a year.
Single copies, 10¢.
Entered at the Post Office at Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y., as second class mail matter.

Editorial

W HAT is the spirit of St. Stephen's? Perhaps there is no question so widely asked among our new men as this; undoubtedly there is none so differently answered.
Sixty years ago this college of ours was founded by men and women who felt keenly the need of bringing a genuine educational education into direct contact with the problems of their day—the ideal of education which has linked Religion and Culture by an indissoluble bond. Those founders gave of their wealth, their labor and their prayers that the newly-founded college might in some way exemplify this ideal. When their work was done, they passed on their dreams to men who, through those long years, kept the noble ideals and high purposes of the founders ever before their eyes. That same devotion to and labor for the good of the college characterized them as did their predecessors. They were men who were animated by a spirit of veneration for all the high and noble things of the past. Although each generation had its vision of the future, visions which had as their all-encompassing theme the gradual evolution of St. Stephen's into a state which should at least approximate perfection—yet these grand old men—never for a moment were forgetful of the rich inheritance they had received and the strong foundation on which they were to build. This veneration and love for the past gradually became woven into the life here until it has come to be the most vital characteristic of the true St. Stephen's spirit. It has colored our lives with a glow that not even the most necessary sketchy paragraphs are addressed with the hope that from them some glean of the true St. Stephen spirit may be gained.

The spirit of St. Stephen’s is something definitely and additionally present.

In these days when the insidious doctrines of modernism have penetrated into every phase of life, it is not strange that we should be tainted with them here at St. Stephen’s. There are those of our own group, tradition-smashers and scoffers at the past, who would have us disregard and count as nothing all that has been done in the past, and set up something new, shining and glittering; and yet if one were to tell these same people to tear out the foundations of their houses and build again without foundations, they would consider him either a plain fool or a dangerous imbecile. These college modernists along with their elder brothers in the fields of religion and politics, would have us believe that as long as we continue our so-called slavish devotion to the past we will have stagnation,—that true progress will never be attained here at St. Stephen’s until we wholeheartedly and unreservedly embrace the new. They apparently forget that the word progress itself means development, and that, in turn, development means addition and not subtraction. In other words, we cannot have progress by taking away.

Along with “progress,” some of us are continuously speaking of those vague things, “the new day,” “the new generation,” and “the young men of today”—terms which have come, through continual use and misuse, to mean very little more to us than commonplace abstractions.

Newspapers, periodicals, novels and poetry are filled with them, and alas! we hear very little else from the pulpit. To anyone with the true spirit of progress, these things have come to be sickening and disgustingly wearied of continually hearing of them, and our only salvation lies in a willingness to look occasionally behind us to the past with a sense of development; very little discernment, however, is necessary to see that this ideal is not paradoxical but perfectly possible. The spirit of St. Stephen’s is ably passed through its crises and hereafter will be prepared to battle royally with any average college aggregate.

FOOTBALL, as played to-day, is a game of synchronism and coöperation where every man is possible player. And the team was composed largely of raw material and largely of lower classmen—a rather gloomy outlook. Yet, through the hard and conscientious work of each man on the squad, under the ingenious direction of our new coach, Major Percy S. Prince, the team developed into an aggregation of honor to the College.

The games played St. Stephen’s won four and lost entire new team, we can all look for great success in the coming years of the College's football history. As only two members of the 'Varsity squad will be graduated this year, there is left nearly an entire eleven upon which to build a record-breaking machine for the Fall of 1921.

T HIS campus this college year, seems lacking in that there is an absence of some one who was almost a landmark of St. Stephen's. There is one who helped to give this little community a certain scholastic atmosphere which foretold dignity and purpose. This person is John C. Robertson. It is with great reluctance that we realize the fact that the trustees received last Spring the resignation of the Hoffman Professor of Greek, who for twenty-eight years was ever ready to afford assistance to any student who might call upon him.

We of the present and younger generation have not been able to appreciate Dr. Robertson to the extent as have our alumni. We feel sure that every alumnus who learned Greek under Dr. Robertson will always say a good word for "Robbie's" exactness and thoroughness,—thus making graduates of St. Stephen's not only on a par, but sometimes far better versed in the Greek language and literature than graduates from other institutions and universities.

Dr. Robertson came to St. Stephen's in September, 1892, and was a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, with a Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins. Ever in his stay at Annadale he has been a loyal observant of the regulations of the College, and for honest purpose in the welfare of the Institution. He was a steadfast supporter of The Messenger and all College activities. He graciously upheld the athletics of the institution, himself being a very fine tennis player.

The Chair of Greek which Dr. Robertson leaves to take up work in New York City, is filled by Dr. Lucius R. Sherod. Dr. Sherod, who is a Ph. D. from the University of Wisconsin, was a Rhodes Scholar for three years at New College, Oxford, from which college he received a B. A. Degree. He spent his College course at Haverford, where he received his B. A. Degree.

Athletics

FOOTBALL REVIEW

THE 1920 season of football at Saint Stephen's is finished. The Red and White waved triumphantly over four contests, and sturdily waved its defiance to the end, although outweighted and outclassed in three others.

With but seventy students from which to pick a team, and but thirty of those answering the call for candidates; with no veterans of preceding seasons, and no men who had ever played in intercollegiate contests; with a new coaching system to master; the prospects on September 26th looked far from encouraging, but the little squad settled down to the hard grind that doomed up ahead of them with a determined spirit.

The season opened on October second at Canton, New York, with Saint Lawrence University as opponents, and after a plucky struggle against a heavier and more experienced eleven, the Red and White held the losing end of a 35 to 0 score.

On October 13th, after an all-day and all-night ride, Alfred University was met at Alfred, New York, as a result of the long trip were well tired, and were defeated by the heavier and more experienced Alfred team by a score of 39 to 0.

Eastman College, on October 23rd came up from Poughkeepsie eager to duplicate their feat of 1919, a 49 to 0 victory over St. Stephen's but were turned back and defeated after a hard, close game by a score of 7 to 0.

Eastman College on October 30th came up from Poughkeepsie eager to duplicate their feat of 1919, a 49 to 0 victory over St. Stephen's but were turned back and defeated after a hard, close game by a score of 7 to 0.

The 'Varsity journeyed to Cornell to meet New York Military Academy on October 30th, where, although crippled by the loss of three of the best players in the early stages of the game, and with the score 27 to 0 against them, they staged a great rally in the last half of the game and made the final score stand 27 to 17.

The alumni may well be proud of their 1920 eleven, for, in addition to overcoming the lack of weight and experience and completing a really successful season, they left with their opponents, in every instance, the reputation of playing the cleanest kind of football, of being true sportsmen, and of being gentlemen both on the playing field and elsewhere.

Alumni of St. Stephen's! There are good men of athletic caliber in your localities who want a college education. Talk St. Stephen to them, and induce them to register there, and help your team to greater successes in the season 1921-22.

Hallowe'en Party

A masquerade party was held in Preston Hall on Hallowe'en. It was marked with a fine display of originality on the part of costumes, and the committee in charge is to be commended for the very enjoyable evening spent by all. The refreshments consisted of cider, doughnuts, and ice cream. Professor McDonald completed the entertainment of the evening with one of his famous ghost stories.

Thanksgiving

The Thanksgiving holidays which lasted from Wednesday noon, November 26th, until the following Monday morning, were enjoyed immensely by those who remained on the campus. Mrs. Whiting and Mrs. Franklin kindly entertained on Wednesday evening and a very happy evening was spent. A very fine dinner was served in Preston Hall, and on the whole, vacation was marked with a lively and enjoyable atmosphere.
Bark from the Lyre Tree

In Those Balmy Days.
If you love me, tay to,
If you don't love me, tay tow;
If you love me, twetze my hand,
But don't keep me sitting on these told teps
All night long. I'll freeze to def, Damit.
—Virginia Reel.

Moore:—"Why do they have clocks on socks?"
Barry:—"So they can see how fast the seams run."—Hamilton Life.

Changing the Call.
"They say Edison is working on a machine
that will enable us to talk with the departed."
"I suppose the proper call will be Heaven-
ho! instead of Hell-o!"—Boston Transcript.

First Thought.
I love the girls who do,
I like the girls who don't,
But the very best of all
(And I'm sure you'll think I'm right)
Is the girl who says she won't,
And then she says she might!—Cornell Widow.

Second Thought.
I see her on the beach.
Her beauty my eyesight dims.
She surely is a peach—
She has such pretty—arms!—Cornell Widow.

Second Thought.
I see her on the beach.
Her beauty my eyesight dims.
She surely is a peach—
She has such pretty—arms!—Cornell Widow.

Sad, But True.
Buddie—Have you stopped smoking?
Ferdie—Yep; sworn off.
Buddie—Why?
Ferdie—It's getting to be so darned effemin-ate.—Pitt Panther.

Well Done on the Gridiron.
"What's your favorite wild game?"
"Football."—Boston Transcript.

Well Done on the Gridiron.
"What's your favorite wild game?"
"Football."—Boston Transcript.

Well Done on the Gridiron.
"What's your favorite wild game?"
"Football."—Boston Transcript.

Changing the Call.
"They say Edison is working on a machine
that will enable us to talk with the departed."
"I suppose the proper call will be Heaven-
ho! instead of Hell-o!"—Boston Transcript.