

---

Senior Projects Spring 2015

Bard Undergraduate Senior Projects

---

Spring 2015

US: My Thoughts on Everything so Far

Samuel James Buffett-Haygood
Bard College, sh3415@bard.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.bard.edu/senproj\_s2015

 Part of the Interdisciplinary Arts and Media Commons

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 License.

---

Recommended Citation

Buffett-Haygood, Samuel James, "US: My Thoughts on Everything so Far" (2015). Senior Projects Spring 2015. 105.

https://digitalcommons.bard.edu/senproj\_s2015/105

This Open Access work is protected by copyright and/or related rights. It has been provided to you by Bard College's Stevenson Library with permission from the rights-holder(s). You are free to use this work in any way that is permitted by the copyright and related rights. For other uses you need to obtain permission from the rights-holder(s) directly, unless additional rights are indicated by a Creative Commons license in the record and/or on the work itself. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@bard.edu.

Growing up in two different households meant living two different lives for 18 years. Constantly changing environments led me to seek stability in other aspects of my life. I never knew how to feel about the whole situation; there were times of happiness but many times that I did not think I could manage. Art has always been my way of expressing the feelings that I did not necessarily know how to vocalize or explain. Rather than letting my emotions wreak havoc on my life, I got into the habit of translating these synnical comments that I had on society into visual representations. I have always found dark humor to be the most intriguing combination of comedy and tragedy. There is something profoundly human about laughing at something that is not a laughing matter, and I absolutely love it. Humor is a medium through which I can comment on just about anything that I want.

