S.A.E. Emerges Winner From Rushing Time
Pledges Twelve; K.G.X Has Five; Eulexians Four; Kaps Still Largest House
39% NON-SOC

When the Pan-Hellenic Council met Wednesday afternoon, nineteen houses pledged or pledged to pledge the three unpledged ones on campus. Since then, two more houses have passed their pledge stamina, leaving five of the nine to be pledged this afternoon. The newest pledges are from the junior class and are expected to receive bids before the end of the week.

DeWile Talks About Balkans
Relates Their Importance
To Russia and Germany

At the college meeting held in the theatre on Tuesday night, John Eden, Robert Potter, Harry Lydman, and William Winterbottom, representatives of the Frederick's Balkan League, made a statement to the students of Bard about the Balkan crisis. During the meeting, the three leaders of the Balkan League announced that they were planning to go to the Balkans in order to make a personal investigation of the situation there, and that they would return to this country in order to report to the students of Bard on the exact situation prevailing in the Balkans.

Science Club Plans Vassar Attendance

At a business meeting in Albert Memory Hall Monday evening, members of the Science Club decided to take part in the New York Vassar attendance. The plan is to have a liaison with the junior class and to encourage all students to attend Vassar. The Science Club is planning to send a representative to Vassar to talk to the students about the importance of science and to encourage them to attend Bard.

Moon Eclipse Late Tonight

No Big Bard Photographs Undertaking This Year

One of the most beautiful eclipses of the moon visible in the present century will occur tonight at 1:39, the full moon will be 28% darker than usual. No large scale undertaking will be undertaken this year, but an eclipse of the moon on November 14 will be observed by Peter Leaven, who directed last year's eclipse. A group of astronomers from the University of California and Vassar College will be on hand to watch the eclipse.
Friends of mine seem to feel pretty generally that, with or without advice notice of their coming, they will find food and drink at the guest house. I really find the best advice is in the answer to the question, if you don’t sleep you can lose the desire. (Though there are some that give their advice in a roundabout manner.)

There is a danger of United States involvement in the conflict in our markets. I think the democracies of Europe should have the right to purchase all the weapons they need. The longer a war lasts, the greater is the danger of atomic war. I think the democracies should be restored to the world. The longer we do not give up the fight, the farther we carry the good news of freedom.

The pledging of an overwhelming majority of the men by the President of America to the proposition that they will fight for the rest of the world if need be is a real chance to act on that advice. But if we remain on the ground awhile and get involved, it will be too late to win neutrals to our country’s cause.

And for nearly a month Washington was a war center. The epic of the embargo is due presently. It will be well to briefly review here the case for both sides.

Last week the House of Representatives, in the essence of their argument two propositions: first, by natural and normal processes, to win neutrals to our country’s cause.

Add comeback: the week before in the play-off, the Bobcats kept the game alive until the last minute, but this time the scores were 34-24 in favor of Inman. The Bobcats were outscored by the Husky on the last tie, 24-1-2, and will be playing for a third time in the playoffs this year.

Add related news: The Freshman Inter-Dormitory League has been in progress for the past three years, and the results have been quite exciting. The league has grown in popularity and now includes teams from all four dormitories. The games are played on Saturdays, and the season ends in early March. The team with the highest points at the end of the season is declared the champion of the Freshman Inter-Dormitory League.

...passes, reverses, and laterals. The Eulexians, on the other hand, had to make up for their own mistakes to keep the score low. Sharp kicked off to the Eulexians, but the punt was fumbled and recovered by the Kaps. The Kaps then made a gain of 10 yards on first down, but a fumble resulted in a turnover. The Eulexians, however, failed to take advantage of the turnover and the Kaps took over on their own 40-yard line. The Kaps drove down the field and scored on a 1-yard touchdown pass from Sharp to Rutterer, 1-0.

Dorm Football League Starts

A second youth football league based on three dormitory combinations has been formed in the fall season. The league will feature the Freshman Inter-Dormitory League with the remaining two dormitories participating. The season opened with a game between the Freshmen and the Sophomores, which ended in a 24-0 victory for the Freshmen. The league will continue throughout the fall season.

Touch Football Season Ends

R. Potter, Underwood High Scoring Touch Football Season

The second half of the touch football schedule has come to a close with the Kaps winning their final game. The Kaps had a chance to follow up this advantage, but they settled for a tie to score and had their break when, after the Kaps had gained possession of the ball, the Eulexians and the ball bouncing off Burrough's back. The Kaps then used the break to score and had their break when, after the Kaps had gained possession of the ball, an extra-point attempt was missed.

Once again the Freshmen finished a very close second. It was the Faculty-Dig combination, however, that pleased the excitement of the season's second half. The last game was won by the Faculty-Digs, and the Freshmen and the Faculty-Digs. Had the latter have achieved victory there would have been a three-way tie for first between the Eulexians, Freshmen, and Faculty-Digs. In total averages the Frosh are out in front by quite a distance.

A REVIEW

by Robert Mahaney

Boston, Oct. 14th.—“The Time of Your Life” is not a comedy. To some it may sound as if I am contradicting the title, but it is not, I assure you; to others it might be tragic; to still others it might have no point at all. The title is perfect. It is a title that reminds one that life is at its best when one is free to accept life as it is and not to try to force it into a dramatic story of a group of characters who are gathered in this saloon for no other reason than to be in Paris and Washington, and that there is a Rodin statue of Shakespeare to be seen.

The action takes place in “Nick’s Place,” a saloon owned by Joseph Barden, who is also a photographer, and it is a play where the audience is led to believe that there is a section of life that begins from minute one and ends at minute nine. The protagonist is Joe (Eddie Dowling), a leader with humor and a good heart, who acts drunk anddashboard, but who takes notice of all the little things of everyday life and who wants to live a normal civilized life that can be practiced in he Bard Theatre). Under the direction of Pacific Relations in New York, “Time of Your Life” is a play which has been tentatively established in life, and the best acting is turned in by Charles de Gaulle, who in the role of Joe, “does admirably, entirelly well qualified for the part. Joe is followed by Tom (Edward Antone), who is studying in the Group Theatre (incidentally, the first being a play which has been tentatively established in life, and there is no appreciable bad acting, particularly in the life of Nick’s place.
