Six Bardians Attend Dance Square Under Upper Red Hook

Local Students Toured By Red Hook Natives In Provincial-Margin-Barrel Relay

No sooner had Dr. Mestre adjourned the meeting of a local "Turkish ball" with speeches to accept his聘（聘等） from the Bardian, Mr. Peter Zeller, the "Turkish ball" with speeches to accept his 聘 from the Bardian, Mr. Peter Zeller, than the Bardians were caught by the 11th hour and the dance of the 11th hour was in full swing, as the Bardians and faculty met in the main campus to enjoy the dancing and music of the evening.

The Bardians in their formal attire, with their characteristic red and black attire, were seen throughout the campus, enjoying the evening's festivities. The dance lasted from 8 PM until 12 AM, with a brief intermission for refreshments.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.

The Bardians, who are known for their love of dance and music, were seen moving to the rhythm of the music, with smiles on their faces.

The Bardians were also seen taking part in the various activities that were held throughout the evening, such as the dance, music, and socializing.
Looking Around

The immediate news concerns the arrival of another old class to Bard College this year. Or possibly this new one will become the most famous class in the history of the College. It seems that there are at least 200 students entering this year, which is the largest class in the history of the College. The students are expected to make a big impression on the faculty and the community. The new students are expected to bring new ideas and new energy to the College, and they are likely to make a big impact on the campus.

And, just by the way of passing, does anybody remember about the good-old-days of France? Last year the stupidity of the French was famous. The Prime Minister, a man who obviously needed a psychology degree, was obsessed with the idea of national defense. He demanded that every Frenchman be able to carry a gun. This idea was supported by the military, and the government passed a law requiring all Frenchmen over the age of 18 to be trained as soldiers. However, this law was never enforced, and the French government never did anything to improve its military. The French army was weak and poorly trained, and it was a laughing stock in Europe. It is no wonder that the French were not taken seriously by their neighbors. The French government was not interested in improving its military, and it was more interested in maintaining its tradition of neutrality. The French people were not interested in fighting for their country, and they were more interested in preserving their way of life. This helped to make the French army one of the weakest in Europe, and it was a big reason why France was defeated in World War II.

The French government was more interested in preserving its tradition of neutrality than in fighting for its country. This helped to make the French army one of the weakest in Europe, and it was a big reason why France was defeated in World War II.

BARD AND PROGRESS....

The signs of progress are all there. They are everywhere. The new students are bringing new ideas and new energy to the College. The new students are expected to make a big impression on the faculty and the community. They are expected to bring new ideas and new energy to the College, and they are likely to make a big impact on the campus.

One of the new students is a man who obviously needed a psychology degree. He demanded that every Frenchman be able to carry a gun. This idea was supported by the military, and the government passed a law requiring all Frenchmen over the age of 18 to be trained as soldiers. However, this law was never enforced, and the French government never did anything to improve its military. The French army was weak and poorly trained, and it was a laughing stock in Europe. It is no wonder that the French were not taken seriously by their neighbors. The French government was not interested in improving its military, and it was more interested in maintaining its tradition of neutrality. The French people were not interested in fighting for their country, and they were more interested in preserving their way of life. This helped to make the French army one of the weakest in Europe, and it was a big reason why France was defeated in World War II.

The French government was more interested in preserving its tradition of neutrality than in fighting for its country. This helped to make the French army one of the weakest in Europe, and it was a big reason why France was defeated in World War II.
FRESHMAN BEWARE!

Dear Freshmen:

I cannot help thinking that if, when I first came to Bard, there had been notices to tell me some of the things that are now the topic of conversation on campus and have had a far more comfortable first year and that, with the wise comment that I have themselves to "sound the warning note" to all newcomers. Bard is a small college, and for a small college it has a disproportionate number of antagonistic groups. Although it may sound out of place to say that there are fraternities and non-fraternities, that is the situation. Aided from the three "frattry clubs" (KKG, SAE, and Eulex) there are such organizations as the Forum, the New-dor, the American Student Union, the Outing Club, and the Rainbow Club. Of course, you will learn, are for the most part centers of comment, argument, and occasionally, strife. Attend the first convention; and attend it here you will see the groups work. The recent New York primary mauling will seem more like a love affair than a political campaign when you have some of our campus demagogues at it for the free-labor liberals.

For the benefit of those who have not yet developed their comprehensive powers to the full extent and for those who disregarded Dean Hawkins' admonition to examine both sides of the fence:

Don't be smug.

Don't be anti-fraternity.

Don't accept a fraternity bid without examining the situation. (There isn't a fraternity man on campus who doesn't HATE at least five of his "brothers").

Your answer. It isn't a fraternity man on campus who doesn't hate at least five of his "fratres.

To the Editor of THE BARDIAN,

Underwood's charges will be impossible for our campus at this time. However, be­cause we have been unable to establish so far, there should be no reason for our not carrying out at least in some important aspect, the co-operative principle. It is obvious that the non-profit distri­butes concerns have been organized to serve con­sumer's interests are at stake.

FRESHMAN BE­RAH!!

ARTHUR S. UNDERWOOD.

FRESHMAN TAKE CARE!

Dear Freshmen:

With the usual salutations of upperclassmen I should like to add a few comments of advice that already preferred.

So far, all business of smugness is quite a problem.

You can be so blinded by your superficiality that you may lose your sense of humor. Go on.

On the other hand, don't be appalled if you are accused of being smug, when after you have looked into the matter. If you learn not to be smug in your point of view deserves as much respect as the radical's.

To the Editor of THE BARDIAN,

George "Arthur" Ackerman.

RUNNERS START VS. WESLEYAN

Annual Interscholastic Meet
Oct. 23rd.

Poor letterman from the 1936 squad, led by Captain Steve Pea­body, will form the nucleus of this year's Bard College cross country team that will undertake a stiff six-mile sched­ule this fall. Opening their season on October 3rd, the Bardians will face Wesleyan, a team that has cleared the field on the home course against Middletown. On October 10th, the Bard barriers will take on Trinity in a friendly meet, while the next home meet will be held on October 23rd and White last fall. Two days later, H. P. J. will be played.

October 10th will see Bard face the strong Albany State runners and on October 23rd another letterman, former member on Bard athletic schedules will be replaced throughout the year.

Mid-Rhode Meet

Invitations to participate in the sixth annual Bard College Interscholastic cross country meet are to be held on October 23rd were mailed to sixty high and prep schools today. The meet, which has drawn a large list of competitors in past seas­ons, will be run over the difficult two-mile Bard course. Last year's meet was won by the State Academy, including Nott Terrace High, who 120 runners, a few more entries are expected this year.

Competing schools will be divided into four districts for the 1938 meet. A feature will be the competition among Ditmars, the General Lafayette teams for the American Legion trophy, which appears in the names of winners in each district. The winner team will receive a special medal.

In 1936 the best team was made by Nott Terrace, who in a gruelling win went to Ira Debro, of Red Hook, who finished in 11:31. The record for the course was set in 1936 by Donald Nolan, of Nott Terrace.

The schedule: October 2, East Stroudsburg, home; October 5, P. I., on; October 9, Hamilton, away; October 16, Brooklyn, away; October 22, Bard, home; October 23, Brooklyn College, home; November 6, Pitzer, home.

Coach Ackerman's charges will be playing a second meet on November 4 against Puane College, a team that recently met on a one-mile field last year. The New York col­legiate league has been actively kept in­t and a winning streak that reached twenty-five-seconds until later last week.

A feature will be the competition among Ditmars, the General Lafayette teams for the American Legion trophy, which appears on the names of winners in each district. The winner team will receive a special medal.

The schedule: October 2, East Stroudsburg, home; October 5, P. I., on; October 9, Hamilton, away; October 16, Brooklyn, away; October 22, Bard, home; October 23, Brooklyn College, home; November 6, Pitzer, home.

WILLIAM C. AUCOCK

Estate

Fruits

Vegetables

Grocres

Red Hook

Phone 63

College Delivery

RETAIL WINE AND LIQUOR STORE

ROLAND A'BRIAL

Phone Red Hook 33-73

RED HOOK, N. Y.

First National Bank

MEMBER

Red Hook

Phone 718

Red Hook

Phone 63

College Delivery

Venez me voir dans la cruche de pierre.
FORUM ACTIVITIES BEGIN NEXT WEEK WITH ORGANIZING

The Forum's debating organization, will begin its activities next week, according to its president, Henry Baker, with a meeting which will be open to any man on campus interested in debating.

In a recent statement, Mr. Baker said, "As an excellent opportunity exists for the members of the Preben club to attend the meeting, all men from these groups who are interested in debating are strongly urged to attend this meeting."

"Our plans include debates with Columbia and Colgate, with whom contacts have already been made, and with Barnard of Columbia University, one of the Forum's new adversaries. Plans for the customary conference with Bennington college the most interesting aspects of the meeting, and the most likely to be made.

Ray Carpenter returns to Barnard

Psychologist continues his work here, concludes research in Siam

Dr. Ray Carpenter has returned from the jungles of the easternmost American continent where he studied the private life of the Gibbon in its native habitat, for the purpose of tracing more fully the evolution of this species. The expedition was not only a success from the scientific viewpoint, but it was an adventure, Dr. Carpenter tells us. Because the natives are Mohammedans, whose religion teaches that the inner way to the divinity is through the mirror of a Christian, it was necessary for Dr. Carpenter and his party to be on constant guard, and, for most of the time, to be accompanied by a military escort.

This expedition was financed by the Carnegie Institution, the Mount Holyoke College, and Columbia University. The expedition was conducted with the utmost privacy.

Five Bardians Visit European Countries

(Continued from page one) also visited the new excavations at Martinique, and Guadalupe. The expedition was financed by Potter, of the six thousand feet of motion pictures that were taken, Dr. Carpenter has offered to show to the winterbottom, Harry V., Woodside, L. I., DeLaSalle University, S. A. M., William J., William D., William Scott, Brooklyn, N. Y., Riverdale H.

The college trustees have exercised their option to buy six acres of land from undesirable development along the highway.

This expedition was financed by Potter, of the six thousand feet of motion pictures that were taken, Dr. Carpenter has offered to show to the

Here it is

Turkish tobacco...world famous for aroma and fragrance...no other tobacco like it on earth. The import duty alone is $5 a pound.

Chesterfield goes half way around the world to get these fine Turkish tobaccos to add their spicy flavor to the best mild ripe tobaccos of our own South.

From far and near...at great expense...Chesterfield selects these mild ripe aromatic tobaccos to give smokers just one thing--MORE PLEASURE.