REGIONAL SURVEY IS CONTEMPLATED AS NEW PROJECT

Dr. Sanford Heads Group To Work Out Various Aspects Of Plan

It has been announced by the college administration that it is contemplating a regional survey of the United States as a project, which might cover several years. The survey will be composed of the material and making plans for the project, which might cover an area of several states as a whole.

FORM REPORTS ON CONFERENCE

Find Better Understanding Between Bennington and Bard; Urges Student Discussion

A better understanding of each other's education of other colleges and universities is the most important result of the conference held on campus of Swarthmore College, Educational Psychology, and the Forum, said Mr. Louis Koenig, president of the Forum.

Both the E. P. C. and the Forum, according to Mr. Koenig, have been working more thoroughly the differences between the students of Bard College and Bennington College in the field of education.

Mr. Koenig said that at Bard the E. P. C. and the Forum are more carefully studying the factual knowledge of the curriculum, and that the E. P. C. is making a note of the progress of the students who are in the second year show exceptional talent in the particular field is its honors system.

A statement setting forth the policy and plans of the Non-Society Alliance was issued Monday evening by the steering committee of that group.

The Statement: "The Non-Society Alliance is the organization of those members of the college who do not belong to the faculty, students, and the public are all interested in the education of the nation."

The council for research in the social sciences of Columbia University, has recently granted $3,300 to Dr. Carpenter for a study of the "Social life of women at Columbia and other universities," in which he is planning to work with students in the sociology department.

"This is the first substantial grant that the Council has ever made to an investigator in the field of sociology," said Dr. Carpenter, "and I think that it indicates that Bard is an integral part of Columbia - a part that is becoming increasingly important.

PICTURES FROM ART SET DISTRIBUTED ON CAMPUS

The framed plates in full color from the Carnegie Art Set have been hung in various places throughout the College—the faculty and junior dining rooms, the Hegeman social room, the Alumni faculty room, the social room in South Hall, and the art library.

In addition, seven plates will be available for students' perusal and inspection at the week's discussion, according to Mr. William Hoffman.

The "Vanity Fair Portfolio of Modern French Art," which is the latest acquisition of the art library, will be described at the Orient gallery some time this week.

NON-SOCiETY MEN ISSUE STATEMENT OF GROUP POLICY

"Therefore the Association has adopted a social program to correspond to the needs of this group. They believe in the maintenance of the status quo. A small tax is levied on every student in the Association; payment is not obligatory. It is purely voluntary. The proceeds of the tax are derived from the collection of the "Alma Mater." This provides Saturday night events and dances for the benefit of the entire college community. The Association particularly participates among its members.

Regrets Cliques

"The Association does not seek to combat the existing social order on campus. Our cliques believe that the maintenance of the status quo is in the best interest of the Association. In carrying out their organization, they promote false materialism, then materialism is the only solution of the entire college community. The Association is wholly opposed to the maintenance of the status quo. We are social cliques of social activity, superficial cliques among the student body should be discouraged.

McCullough Addresses Group

Last Friday evening, Mr. George McCullough spoke to the Bards on "The Limitations of Growing Up." The difficulty of many adults, reading and writing, is that they are unable to adjust themselves to their changing environment. People are too close to lose the power of understanding. They are too close to lose their power of opposition, which is that they nevertheless are not altered.

At an earlier meeting, Mr. Felix P. Hoffman spoke with the group. He talks of the problems arising in contemporary American society and the difficulty in being a college student in the United Country. In the American newspaper, people are supposed to be able to form a new society. In the New York Times, which is the most accurate information to be found in the New York Times and in the Herald Tribune.

BARTON COMMENTS BARD PROGRAM

Winter Field Period
The Winter Field Period was dis­cussed at length during the confer­ence and both committees felt that its value could not be over-empha­sized.

In a preliminary report issued by the Forum, the following sugges­tions were made. These suggestions will be carefully studied by the Forum and other student representa­tives and will be incorporated in a more comprehensive report on the conference at a later date.

Conference Report
1. There should be an exchange of student and faculty opinion through committee channels on the educational policies of this college.
2. An occasional change of the phase of the student's advisor might be consid­ered with the view of bringing the student into closer contact with other members of the faculty.
3. Steps should be taken to re­duce the educational bureaucracy that has been developing on cam­pus. A campus split up into com­mittees is not a coherent campus.
4. The nature and practice of con­ferences should be carefully studied. A better understanding of the conferences on the part of the faculty and students is advisable.

3 Campus Groups Elect Friday Night Meetings

Kappa Gamma Chi has de­cided, after a vote taken last week in the house, that it will continue to meet on Friday evenings. It is not certain, how­ever, whether this policy will be a permanent one and, if not, will "depend largely upon the weight of the faculty meetings," according to Raymond Thomas.

Entertainment Fraternity is also maintaining a Friday night policy. Non-Society group. The only dissent comes from Sigma Al­pha Epsilon which will continue in meet­ing on Thursday, unless Thursday finds that the College has scheduled a special speaker or program, when their meet­ing will also take place on Fri­day.

The Forum feels that the new work-sheets will be a good step in this direction.

5. Advance seminars in any sub­ject should require a minimum of background in that field on the part of the students. Students with little training in constitutional law, for instance, can copulate but Stu­dents are impractical and detract from intelligent discussion.

Smaller Seminars
7. Although the ratio of students to professors is approximately five to one, the distribution of students amongst professors is not equal.

Seminar committees larger than eight stu­dents are impractical and detract from intelligent discussion.

Little Men, What Now?

It is almost trite to say that we are living in a democratic country, but we do so. We are. It is conditioned to the spirit of Bard. We have felt this need and so many other measures abolish repugnance into which the present generation of men has been involved. The cloak of a moral exultation and an object of dedication will no longer be wasted in internal struggle. Make it their joint and solemn business to agitate for further patronage of the most notable of local heroes. It is not pleasant, we know, to be stirred up and not despise them.

Looking Around

Dick Roeve

Communications inviting this department, Lauckey, Platt Co., the Young Temple of the Congregation Brethren of Israeli, and the Vassar Miscellany Neen have released at the Highbridge Point of complicity in local anti-semitism and libel. The turbinous Highwood sheet printed an ad of Lauckey, Platt and Co., which refers to the Pu修养 house for its permanence. In all fairness, we might call the little prying political minds of the McNaboe investigation, the teachers and the McNaboe investigating groups of homunculi democratic.

Stray Bits

"Mexico is undergoing a remarkable change. A President and a Congress that through the eyes of those who can no longer be our friends. The leader should take a lantern exposed to the stars. He sets up a standard to preach honesty; and to strive to change the opinions and sensibilities of others. Of death, a transient traveller, a how to improve your personal appearance and interest in religion in an ever-bored sort of way." Miss Allen Lloyd, Dean of Women at the University of Michigan, is not referring to the passing of the collection plate.

The way you comb your hair has a lot to do with your future success. Good grades will get you places, but they don't mean everything. A few days afterwards, on orders of the King of England, . . . they were taken outside the town and hung. On this nearby 3000 clerks, masters and scholars alike, left Oxford, not a single one of the whole University remaining.

And there were in those days 'teachers' oaths of fidelity.' The parallels run on. On one side of the ancient, on the other the modern.
Bard Harriers Crush Hamilton

No Huey Long.

As Billie Shanebrake has publicly announced, he is perfectly satisfied to let his son, Henry Wadebrake Longfellow, have the time of his life by being in the finals of the National Harriers' Meet. The 18-year-old has already run a mile in three minutes and fourteen seconds, with a goal of sub-fourteen. He is on the road again this week, and he will be the talk of the track world.

The Non-Socs Defeat K.C.Y. By One and One Half Points

Win Inter-Fraternity Meet and Trophy.

The Non-Society trackmen won the Inter-Fraternity Meet in the final round against the formidable K.C.Y. team. The meet was held on the Bard campus on Saturday, and the Non-Socs proved to be the stronger team with a final score of 17-13. The meet was a test of strength and speed, with the Non-Socs emerging victorious.

Dubois, Red Hook, Captures Honors in Schoolboy Meet

In Dubois, the Red Hook High school attended the Schoolboy Meet in the fifth and sixth at the two-mile marker. Their time was twenty-five minutes and four seconds. The meet was run as a team event, and the teams were divided into four races. The opener was tackled ... Lank Leonard. It all hinges around that Inter-Class Cross Country Meet which will be held on Saturday, and the frats will be the main beneficiaries.

Williams to Engage Smyth in Semi-Finals

To date, half of the second round of the track meet has been completed, leaving the other half yet to be played. The semi-finals are scheduled for Saturday, and the ultimate winner will be decided before the result is written up the final results, to all right. The college is going forward. Williams is set to face the challenge at the hands of Smyth.

We sympathize with Dr. Harold Smith, who has been stripped of his position as the head of the athletic department. The decision was made after a rigorous evaluation of the athletic program. Dr. Smith is a beloved member of the Bard community, and we hope he will find success elsewhere.

THE FACULTY NOTES

Mr. McClelland and Dr. Banford will attend the Fifth Annual Educational Conference to be held in New York on October 25th and 26th, under the auspices of the American Council on Education and the Educational Research Bureau. At this meeting leading educators representing both secondary schools and colleges will discuss progressive methods in modern education. Mr. McClelland is at present working for his Master's Degree in Public Relations at Columbia University.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Qualey attended a Roosevelt political rally at Philip's Manor Hall last week, during which Josephine Roche spoke. Miss Roche, a Vassar graduate, is at present Assistant-Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and has gained a liberal reputation for her treatment of labor in the vast Colorado mines which she inherited from her father.

Dr. Hirsch is at present writing several historical articles for early publication in various scholarly magazines. His last published article appeared in July, and it is only recently that he has again found time to write after reorganizing the Bard library. He has contributed to Nation, Saturday Review of Literature, Wilson's Bulletin and numerous German periodicals.

The Annual Report of the Faculty for the past academic year was submitted and the annual faculty meeting was held this week. The final appeal this week for election to the Assembly of the State of New York in a number of addresses.

On October 15, Dr. Gesner spoke on five generations of the Bard family at the semiannual meeting of the Dutchess County Historical Society. In the Sketch Book of this organization to be given on the Bard campus, he will have a further article on the Bard family.

The wheenuths of the Ginkgo leaves unimportant, but the tree with the death of the pips is proved to be only a bloodstained. Before it is the truth of the way, I was told. First, that the pips make the Chinese pigtail for a game of charades. Miss Fisher. Secondly, that Icky, Dr. Obershov's dog devours the innards enthusiastically...I've forgotten who. Thirdly, that the sweet, sweet smelling inside is really edible, and besides, the filling suits with great glee the raising seeds of little red schoolhouses by roads. Dr. Koopman.

DUBOIS, RED HOOK CAPTURES HONORS

New Rochelle aggregations, representing the three largest schools in the competition. Nott Terraria, which boasts one of the finest teams in the state, annexed all the honors. Stamper, St. Onge, and Marcon won the first three places. They were followed by Kelly of White Plains. The aggregate for the interscholastic contest was given to the Dutchess County. Schenectady, entered in the race but failed to show up for some unknown reason.
