Deceased Music Professor

Had Interesting Career

Sandro Harmati was well known for work among unemployed musicians and for championing American composers.

Sandro Harmati, Professor of Music at Bard College since September 1926, died at the home of his brother-in-law, Richard T. Tader, in Flemington, New Jersey, on March 10. He was 65 years old. His home was at 117 West Fifteenth Street, New York City.

Mr. Harmati was in poor health last November when he was convalescing after a leaking eye operation at Roosevelt Hospital in Flemington in order to recuperate.

Mr. Harmati, although born in Rumania, was a champion of American music in the symphony world. He founded the Palatine Prize in music for his "Symphonic Poem" "Melodrama" in 1919. Many famous symphony orchestras both in the United States and Europe have performed his music. He was a music critic and editor, and was an authority on American art. Mr. Harmati was in poor health Europe. In this country he served the legal mind of the Bard students, had its premiere last Friday night at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Mr. Harmati was a good friend of composers and was well known for his "championing of American music in the symphony world." He was a music critic and editor, and was an authority on American art. Mr. Harmati was in poor health Europe. In this country he served the legal mind of the Bard students, had its premiere last Friday night at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Mr. Harmati was a good friend of composers and was well known for his "championing of American music in the symphony world." He was a music critic and editor, and was an authority on American art. Mr. Harmati was in poor health Europe. In this country he served the legal mind of the Bard students, had its premiere last Friday night at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Mr. Harmati was a good friend of composers and was well known for his "championing of American music in the symphony world." He was a music critic and editor, and was an authority on American art. Mr. Harmati was in poor health Europe. In this country he served the legal mind of the Bard students, had its premiere last Friday night at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Mr. Harmati was a good friend of composers and was well known for his "championing of American music in the symphony world." He was a music critic and editor, and was an authority on American art. Mr. Harmati was in poor health Europe. In this country he served the legal mind of the Bard students, had its premiere last Friday night at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Mr. Harmati was a good friend of composers and was well known for his "championing of American music in the symphony world." He was a music critic and editor, and was an authority on American art. Mr. Harmati was in poor health Europe. In this country he served the legal mind of the Bard students, had its premiere last Friday night at the Metropolitan Opera House.
I read with much interest in THE BARDIAN that the idea of the criteria sheet was submitted to the college at the time of a general reorganization of the study of compulsory chapel. Nevertheless, I am by no means happy and at peace with the decision of the Trustees who favored practical over theoretical work in the field of religion.

The general trend against compulsory chapel attendance in colleges is rather of an old story; an imaginative type of answer which at times seems to reflect a selfish and indulgent attitude, but we hesitate to express some disharmony with someone’s watching the steam coming from a tea-kettle.

I kept thinking of him as a heavy-shouldered student who was bald and a good athlete; for James Farrell’s Stone in the middle of the ladder. Thus the faculty service department, that the idea of the criterial sheet was submitted to the college at the time of a general reorganization of the study of compulsory chapel.

The general trend against compulsory chapel attendance in colleges is rather of an old story; an imaginative type of answer which at times seems to reflect a selfish and indulgent attitude, but we hesitate to express some disharmony with someone’s watching the steam coming from a tea-kettle.

If you write, I won’t be, but I’m not. Besides, even if you do write, you’ll be surprised at the results. We are experimenting. We are experimenting. The Spring Sports are only one of the factors. If I still tell you about the Three Bears—if you subsequently promise to leave him alone. Originally the water tower was intended as a home for the faculty. Now the whole idea was in front of the idea, that if you once got the faculty up in that barrel it was planned to cut on top and blacken down the barrel. They have a circular portal running all around the outside with iron gates and all; that the faculty would be forced to climb down a ladder to reach the water. They can’t possibly tell if it’s cut out of the middle of the ladder. Thus the faculty service department...

The composers are of interest to note a type of answer which at the time of a general reorganization of the study of compulsory chapel has...
Chapel Questionnaire

The response tendered the chapel questionnaire has been far from complete. As THE BARDIAN is anxious to publish the results and present student opinion clearly and definitively on this matter, it is requested that all questionnaires be returned shortly. In the event that individual students find that they cannot honestly answer some of the questions either because of ambiguous wording or religious conviction, it is further requested that they submit answers only to questions 7 and 11 relating directly to the issue of compulsory chapel attendance.

A new form of vitamin D has been developed at the University of Illinois medical school.

“Baloney” Says Butler But Not Nicholas

“Baloney” declares Smedley Darlington Butler, is what anti-war strikes amount to. “The only way,” he declares, “to prevent war is to put the fear of God into the hearts of your bloody congressmen. Organize, sure,” he admitted, “but you have to do more than talk. Get out petitions and frighten your senators and your president to death with them. The only thing they fear is public opinion.”

Mr. Harmati was an American delegate to the International Society for Contemporary Music at Frankfurt, Germany, in 1927. He was a member of the Beethoven Association and of The Bohemians. His widow, the former Miss Sophia Tjader, daughter of the explorer, whom he married in Darien, Connecticut, in 1919, and his father, Morris Harmati, survive him.

Quality Cleaning and Dyeing
PRESSING AND REPAIRING

Tri-Weekly Service—Monday, Wednesday, Friday
Beckwith Company, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.
Bard’s Oldest Cleaner

Campus Agent: Louis Parent

Musicians throughout the country have praised him repeatedly for his work among the unemployed. He said that his efforts in this line were in gratitude to the American Quakers who helped him to come to this country in 1914 when he was stranded in London and regarded as an enemy alien. At that time a Quaker said in comment on his playing: “Thee is indeed a musician and we will get thee to America.” Mr. Harmati was an American delegate to the International Society for Contemporary Music at Frankfurt, Germany, in 1927. He was a member of the Beethoven Association and of The Bohemians. His widow, the former Miss Sophia Tjader, daughter of the explorer, whom he married in Darien, Connecticut, in 1919, and his father, Morris Harmati, survive him.

You can tell by the twinkle in her eye
...she knows the time of day

...for downright goodness and taste...They Satisfy