AugA2006

Robert Kelly
Bard College

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.bard.edu/rk_manuscripts

Recommended Citation
http://digitalcommons.bard.edu/rk_manuscripts/748

This Manuscript is brought to you for free and open access by the Robert Kelly Archive at Bard Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Robert Kelly Manuscripts by an authorized administrator of Bard Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@bard.edu.
Almost over time.
The spill hook man
so many name seek.
Suck. Hard to be finished with
and be a person.
Over them they say.
A trick of speech
our famous past.
But everything is.

2 August 2006
For sacred script ... the form of complex is of words which ... aspire to become one single and inalterable complex

—Benjamin, Origins, 175.

The words spoken
want to be a monad –

nicht Wörter sondern ein Wort, das Wort,
the word that is the Word.

Babble wants to be Bible. The aspiration. The full spectrum of speech.

Spectre.

The comforting thing about Walter Benjamin is that he is tractate-less, tractatuslos. He remained a speaker of aspiring words, even mots, but knew better than to Summa-rize.

(Novalis, Nietzsche, Benjamin, Wittgenstein, Valéry, apothegmators all, showing the way to preserve language for thinking with, not summarizing. Anything you can summarize is false.

All system is propaganda.

Tragedy? Irony? Language is the biggest propaganda of all.

Still will monad mind mine mean meant a meant word does not mean always or always mean,

I am the only system that makes sense.
You too.
We are the dangerous.
Or say it cleaner: I am the only system it is right and proper and even possible to unpiece. Unmake. Unscheme the system, in the beautiful words of Rabbi Saul, speaking to the Romans, and the Romans were so quick to forget, “...so do not conform yourselves to the System, but be transformed in the renewal of the Mind,”

Aiôn was his word for system, the World of time, ‘whatever is the case.’

2 August 2006
Kiss the dancer
with your hands

the morning
is ready for you again

is reading your dreams into the sweet thing

the air the you

kiss the dancer
because you know

no silver feels the way this cup does and gold only sometimes round a diamond say

as your hands
fit the dancer

because you know
the dancer dances

and because you know the dancer knows

it is morning of it the earth returns to you from its long abstraction to be known by these footsteps alone.

3 August 2006
TRAVEL

Mostly I want to have been.
Been in the names

the names of places so I can come home with them in my mouth and speak the names of place with all the authority of having suffered the inconveniences of the Punjab the cool spray of Yosemite and am now permitted to pronounce.

I want to be always at home and the names effortlessly arise in me speaking themselves

bright as the maps in children's atlases, here is the Bodensee, here is the town where I bought the pen that writes this down.

Dictionary pilgrimage.

To be home.
Jerusalem this double bed.

3 August 2006
TRAVEL, 2

To say I have been there is why one goes
and comes back.
Otherwise travel would be just going.

3 VIII 06
Could I rock
be stone again
or tell a difference even, could I ride
the blue thinking
to a deciding line

like seeing sheep
on grass they eat tells you this is a meadow man your kind have been here long before

only the light is virgin everything else is used beautiful used up and come again
like me one sheep says syrinx a pan pipe speaking Greek as all grass does because the timid light

dreams into place
what we behold
we call this process remembering or music or that person you hear playing over the hill a wooden flute.

4 August 2006
Is this something I am giving to you or for myself like bringing home a blondie not a brownie because I’m not the chocolate kind or am I fooling even me by thinking this cloud will cool me all the day I won’t have to run off to where the A/C hums like a zephyr bare library with all those hard chairs we always have to go somewhere else to be ourselves, an oddity of human speech that we emit words from the same place we take in death flowers and dead animals and if that doesn’t tell you that language is the transfiguration of matter to vibration and Christ in glory then nothing will and all the prophets shake their tongues in vain.

4 August 2006
MES ENFANCES

I’ve had so many carliehoods, as many as the mouth has alphabets or the skin has rain.

4 August 2006
COOL MORNING

whole sun hid neatly behind the trunk of the linden tree ash over there gets bathed in light

ignition start
music cadres next door
hump of car radio

all bad art exaggerates.

5 August 2006
Where are they turning to be in fact?
Zakhor, he remembers but what is the animal that carries the memory safe deep in its fur?
I wonder if this is a question or a stone, or one more flower little red on the heath itself too famous to be of any use to us is it or is it? There is a wedge between him and what he thinks. What he remembers.

6 August 2006
corn furrow cool
midnight sacrifice
the plumbing that runs through darkness
empty us a grave
smashed carriage drystone wall we are damages.

6 August 2006
When the hand works against the hand and the two of you face to face outstretched on the cabin floor the morning sweet we would go to the mountains and be thin your mouths speaking into each other as from across the room I promise you.

Because dreams are promises and my large hand lays to rest a huge country on the little map, shadow of how we long for each other timid as guitars

the passive aggressive, the tuneful so much love is made of wood.

Sing to me without the fuss of music sing to me with your instrument alone

I will be the mountain you will be the rock of which I'm made the softest thing of all will be my bone.

6 August 2006
Don’t tell more than it did:
touched my stubble touched your tits and then the band began to play The Road to Mandalay

we hid inside the closet in the hall till all the children left and then seemed wrong to leave that sacred space so I became a walking stick you a shawl of Irish lace and there we were we could do anything but sing but we had to do it like fire has to burn the terrible thing about dreams is you have to do them all the time and if you stop the blankness comes.

6 August 2006
Too many waiting

and me not waiting gave up in the middle let the night take care of itself stars and so on Perseids are promised for this week the girl will never come back that is the nature of this thing the process.

6 August 2006
Do I look like I know numbers?

I can only count to one.
That’s why people love me, I am the co-religionist of everybody on this planet we worship the same god.

One is real
Two is a dream, an old legend Three is a technical impossibility.

7 August 2006
RELACHE

Day off take playground roll
it up a map’s
as good as a mountain said the man Man mortal. Rare word rose wood. Pilfer
smally steal.
Stalwart losers
lunar baseball yet habebimus. It will be our turn soon.
A month named for King Augustus amatory fleshy
of Rome who didn’t lisp. Once called the Young Octavian
hosenrolle for cute mezzo and then history is no bigger than a bug on your windshield fingerprints on empty glass. Names are the mirrors to do these sad tricks with.

9 August 2006
Outspan’d oxen graze as if sun’s fearful alphabet had never fretted them

word after word
across the field and back so many agains and now
the only now is new.

9 August 2006
The miracle remembers when it was not even a hope. The miracle smiles back through time at its beginning, sweet as a full-faced heiress at an eligible suitor. A miracle is always pregnant with the ordinary. The blind man healed sees just you and me.

9 August 2006
Je vais voir mes passées

, all of my pasts
can't tell the edges where they are

can't tell past from future that's the shame of it all the rain drench of the mind the drain of it

out there,
    time-storms,
a girl's cry past midnight.

10 August 2006